Balance Of U.S. Loan To Britain Already Laid Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's dollar crisis took on a fresh note of urgency today with a report that the $850,000,000 remainder of the United States loan already has been committed for essential purchases.

As the Anglo-American dollar conference entered its third day, diplomatic officials said British delegates are ready to confront their U.S. colleagues with these assertions:

1. The last chunk of the $3,750,000,000 credit now is tentatively earmarked for purchases of raw materials, food and machinery before the end of October.

2. Britain may have to start dipping into her gold and dollar reserves of $2,500,000,000 unless some means of slowing the drain of her scanty dollar supply is found.

The British delegates, headed by Sir Wilfrid Eady, are reported ready to lay these contentions before U.S. officials to back up the London argument that the loan agreement should be revised.

TO GIVE DETAILS
A detailed spending schedule showing how, when and where the loan funds have been spent will be their answer to an American request for full information before any decisions are reached.

U.S. officials indicated they believe the British delegates will concentrate their efforts on attempts to get the convertibility clause changed since this promises the most relief for Britain. This provision makes it mandatory for Britain to exchange dollars for pounds to any country requesting them under current trading.

U.N. Balkan Commission To Continue Work, Says Lie

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations, took sharp issue today with a Russian contention that the Balkan investigating commission and its subsidiary group in Greece were "liquidated" now.

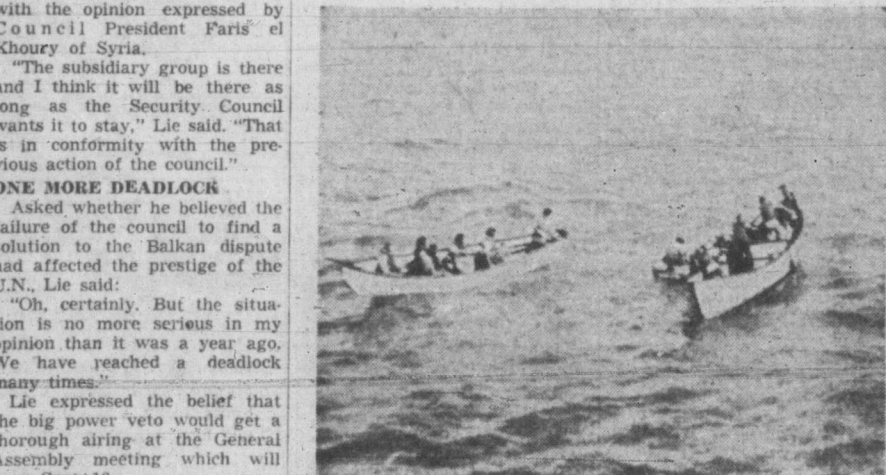

In reply to reports that Russia and Poland might withdraw from both the Balkan commission and the subsidiary group, Lie told a press conference he had no intention of disbanding these bodies unless the Security Council specifically orders such action.

Lie supported the position of the council majority, led by the United States and Britain, that both the commission and its representatives in the Balkans would continue to function in definitely as a result of the council's failure to find a solution to the problem.

He said he agreed completely with the opinion expressed by Council President Faris el Khoury of Syria.

"The subsidiary group is there and I think it will be there as long as the Security Council wants it to stay," Lie said. "That is in conformity with the previous action of the council."

Call More Bids To Speed Arena Roof Completion

C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer for the Memorial Arena, has been instructed by the City Council, meeting in special committee session today, to call for tenders for the remaining cement work at the earliest opportunity.

Today was the second meeting held by the council members on the arena question, and Mayor Percy George said the council had expressed confidence in the actions of the arena committee under the chairmanship of Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, and appreciated fully the difficulties under which the committee has worked during the past year to get the Memorial Arena completed.

Mr. Hamilton reported to the council that tests made on the barrel-roof construction have proved the quality of the work being done by Bennett and White Construction Co. Ltd., the contractors, to be better than on any similar structures with which he has been associated. However, because of labor shortages and other difficulties the progress of the work has not been up to the agreed schedule.

Following the special council session the arena committee convened to discuss the calling of tenders for smaller contracts, including the covering of the roof, plumbing, heating and lighting.

Ald. Dewar said, following the committee meeting, that the bids for the roof covering and the roof drainage would be called immediately. The other smaller contracts must wait until the interior work is under way.

The roof covering consists of pouring asphalt over the cement structure and covering this with aluminum to completely weather-proof the structure. The ribs of the roof will be covered with copper.

The other large contract, on which the council suggested bids should be called so they are in within a week of the completion of the roof structure, includes sidewalks, seating, inside partitions, and all other interior work except plumbing, heating, lighting and refrigeration.

Other permits have been issued to J. Bailey to build a five-room house at 1891 Quamichan Street, $6,700; to Mrs. E. McKinty to build a five-room house at 2942 Quadra Street, $6,500; and to Pemberton, Holmes Ltd., to add another apartment at 534 Trutch Street, at a cost of $2,000.

Oct. 6 Date Set To Launch C.N. Ship At Yarrow's

The $3,000,000 Canadian National coastal passenger ship now under construction at Yarrow's Ltd., is scheduled to be launched Oct. 6, H. A. Wallace, Yarrow's president announced today.

The new ship will be launched from the ways at No. 2 yard where she is now under construction. She will then be taken over to No. 1 yard for completion.

This work will include the installation of engines and final work to be done on cabins, decks and hull. Mr. Wallace said he expected the ship would be ready for service by the end of March next year.

Spacious public rooms are provided for on the ship's upper deck and large staterooms with "disappearing" berths are planned to make comfortable day sitting-rooms. The design of the ship calls for all outside cabins.

The ship has an overall length of 350 feet, a breadth of 52 feet, a displacement tonnage of 5,000 tons, and will have a speed of 18 knots.

Accommodation will be provided for 322 passengers. The ship will have 50,000 cubic feet of cargo space, of which 5,000 will be refrigerated.

Crerar At Nanking

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. H. D. G. Crerar and members of his Canadian mission who have been visiting Japan for a week, left by plane today for Nanking and Hongkong. The mission plans to return to Canada from the Crown Colony.

CHAPEAU, Que. (CP)—The hot, 24-hour zig-zag chase over mountainous country roads for three escaped Kingston penitentiary convicts petered out today as squads of Ontario and Quebec Provincial Police, armed to the teeth and with orders to "shoot on sight," called off the search.

At daybreak reinforcements which converged on this Alouette Island town across the Ottawa River from Pembroke, Ont., on the tip of a service station attendant packed away their firearms. Of the scores of police who covered all roads Tuesday only four remained on duty through the day.

The quartette, under Sgt. Gaston Garceau of Hull, Que., are carrying out a slow, final check-up over the 100-mile road to Hull, stopping at gasoline stations, farm houses and country general stores.

The police withdrew with this remark: "We think they were in the area, but they may have got out."

SEEK GREEN SEDAN

Centre of the search Tuesday was an olive-green Ford sedan of about 1940 vintage, a stolen car in which the trio was believed to have escaped from Kingston.

But by nightfall, rumors were snaking through this rugged country faster than the police themselves. These rumors—all groundless—placed the fugitives, Ulysses Lauzon, Donald (Mickey) McDonald and Nicholas Minille, in Ottawa, at Britannia, an Ottawa suburb, on the road to Smiths Falls, Ont., and at Quyon, Quebec, about 30 miles east of here.

As far as could be learned, the group had made its way to the district via Smiths Falls and Pembroke. Capt. T. L. Smith, skipper of the automobile ferry Pontiac, reported he was sure he had taken the men across in that vessel from Pembroke to Desjardins Landing on Alouette Island, at about 7 a.m. Tuesday.

LONG TERMS

Classed as three of the most dangerous criminals at the Kingston penitentiary from which they sawed their way Monday, the three all have long prison records and were serving lengthy terms.

Lauzon, a Windsor, Ont., man, had been serving a 35-year term following his arrest in Prince Edward Island. The three were said to be seeking a $120,000 cache, said to be Lauzon's share of $350,000 looted from banks in the Windsor area.

McDonald was serving 15 years for hijacking a liquor truck and kidnapping its driver in the Toronto area, while Minille, an Ottawa man, was serving 17 years for armed robbery in the Ottawa district.

One explanation, attributed to the fire chief of nearby Sevilla, said a gas engine in a shipyard near the arms plant had exploded and touched off flames which spread to the torpedo plant and destroyed 500 mines in one big blow-off which shook the city so that residents thought an earthquake had struck.

Two shipyards and many ships were destroyed.

Death Toll In Cadiz Blast Now Expected To Reach 200

CADIZ, Spain (AP)—With 134 bodies already recovered, rescue workers dug today through the wreckage left by Monday night's naval torpedo and mine factory blast two miles from the centre of Cadiz in a search for additional victims.

Mayor Francisco Sanchez Cosio and acting civil governor Antonio Fernandez Perna estimated the death toll probably would reach 200, approximately half the earlier estimates.

Reuter's news agency predicted Tuesday night, however, that the death toll might reach 1,000. The Reuter report said scores of bodies already had been removed.

The city morgue early this morning held 99 bodies and an additional 35 were counted in hospitals in and around this city of 80,000. Unofficial estimates said 5,000 persons had been injured. Unofficial damage estimates ran as high as $10,000,000.

Generalissimo Franco's government banned publication of any casualty figures in the Spanish press and there was no official explanation as to the cause of the blast, which wrecked a hospital, an orphanage and a small factory.

One explanation, attributed to the fire chief of nearby Sevilla, said a gas engine in a shipyard near the arms plant had exploded and touched off flames which spread to the torpedo plant and destroyed 500 mines in one big blow-off which shook the city so that residents thought an earthquake had struck.

Two shipyards and many ships were destroyed.

New Road Outlet From Victoria Considered By Works Minister

The Provincial Works Department is considering a plan to provide Victoria with a new, modern highway outlet to the north.

Works Minister E. C. Carson said today he was looking into the possibility of procuring a route to go straight out Douglas Street and Burnside Road, linking up with the present Island Highway north of Langford.

Mr. Carson said if investigation showed such a route looked into was feasible, plans would be presented to the City Council to determine if the city would be willing to assist with the development of the new route within the city limits.

The improvement of Gorge Road and the Island Highway south of Langford is considered by Mr. Carson to be an expensive proposition. If widening of this route were undertaken, because of the twisted present highway, it is unlikely that a satisfactory high-speed highway would be obtained which would be adequate to handle the future traffic needs of the city, Mr. Carson feels.

Development of the Douglas-Burnside route with an extension west of the present highway at Langford would eliminate the traffic hazards at Langford and on Gorge Road.

Under legislation passed at the last session of the B.C. Legislature implementing the Goldenberg report on provincial-municipal financial relations, provision is made for the provincial government to enter into agreements with municipalities to undertake such projects.

Mr. Carson indicated that because the cost of laying concrete highways was in the neighborhood of three times as great as that of laying asphalt, the new highway, if and when constructed, would be of asphalt. He indicated that a four-lane highway would be necessary to handle the future traffic north-bound out of Victoria for upland points.

2 Britons Slain In Amritsar Rioting

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP)—An official announcement said today that two young British army officers had been slain during communal rioting in Amritsar—first British victims of the bloody warfare between India's religious sects which has been raging intermittently since August, 1946.

The officers, whose names were withheld pending notification of relatives, were said to have been shot to death Monday.

The shooting was done a short time before a bitter outbreak of rioting in a Moslem village near Amritsar, holy city of the Sikhs, in which 24 men and women were reported slashed to death.

3 Lost In Fire

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Three persons lost their lives today in a fire which swept through the three floors of their rooming house here. Six others were injured, two critically, and two more suffered heart attacks after fleeing from the blazing wooden structure.

Immigrant To Give Up Driving In Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—Emil Dzezglik, 33, recently arrived here from Poland, paid $100 in police court Tuesday after admitting he had failed to stop behind a streetcar and "bumped" a boy walking to the curb. It was his first venture into traffic since his arrival from Poland. Asked if he had secured a driver's license since the accident, Dzezglik replied through Workmen put up the steel truss, six feet three inches deep, which will support the roof at the mill in place of the former pillars, and make installation of the new machinery possible. They are supported by two eight-inch "H" section columns set in concrete.

As the heavy equipment needed for the manufacture of felt, and other woolen floor coverings which will form the products of Felt and Textiles of Canada, arrive in Victoria, the old woolen mill is a hive of activity.

Under the able direction of J. F. Shortt, consulting engineer from Vancouver, the interior of the former woolen mill has been virtually gutted and the heavy machinery is set firmly in concrete on the floor. The equipment will cost approximately $150,000.

It is not anticipated that the Canadian factory here can go into production until sometime next spring, Philip Fleming, managing director, said, because deliveries of much of the equipment, both from Australia and the United States, have been held up. However, most of it is en route now from Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Australia. In the meantime products from the Australian mills are being placed on the Canadian market and handled through the Victoria firm as distributors.

A dye-house has been built at one end of the plant, in which the dye vats will be installed. It is more than half completed and the dye vats are on the way from Australia. The vats will be sunk into a cement pit, and a one-ton crane will be used to lift the top of the vat. Room is being left at one end of the dye-house for future piece-dyeing operations when the plant expands to take in other than floor-covering manufacturing processes. The back of the building is also being extended six and a half feet to accommodate squeeze rolls and driers in connection with the dyeing process.

These squeeze rolls will be 22 feet long and are on order. The drier uses nine fans and steam chambers.

The dyed wool will then go to the cleaner, the new piece of equipment pictured, which has just arrived. Connected to this will be a 20-foot apron on which the wool is blended. In order, less modern factories, Mr. Shortt explained, this blending is done by hand on the floor. The wool moves, on conveyor belt principle, into the cleaner.

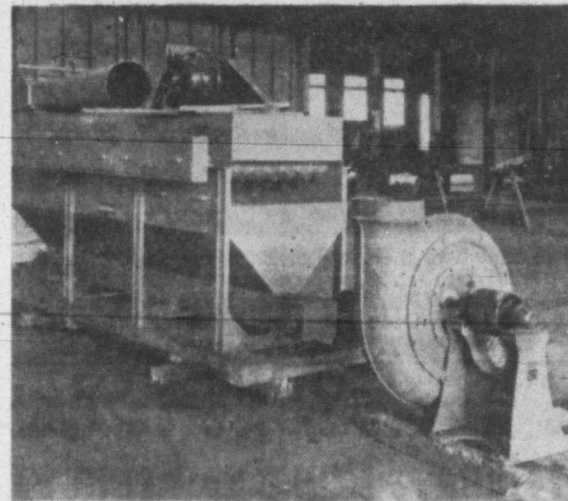

From here it is blown into large bins, 15 by 9 feet in size, which will be built last.

Next it is carded and made into batts which go to the hardeners. The two hardeners have already been installed. They came from Connecticut and the platens are 64 to 115 inches in size. They are set in four and a half feet of concrete and it took 30 yards of concrete to make the base he said. They work on the same principle as a steam press, with the top platen weighing 7,100 pounds. The whole machine weighs 23,000 pounds. The belt for these hardeners will be here in a week and within three weeks they will give the machines an experimental run. Hydraulic cylinders raise the top platens.

The fulling mills, which take care of the next process will not be on hand for several months. Most of the electric motors, supplied by Canadian General Electric in Peterborough are on hand, ranging in size from one and a half horsepower to 25 horsepower size. The company has 34 of them in stock.

The electrical distribution system, with 440 volts power has been installed and is ready. It will carry up to 300 horsepower motors Mr. Shortt explained. The lighting distribution system is an interpreter: "I do not intend to drive again in this country."

One of the pieces of equipment just received by Felt and Textiles of Canada, which expects to start production of the wool floor-covering early in the spring. This is the cleaner, which can handle 2,500 pounds of wool per hour. It was manufactured in Atlanta, Ga.

Fires Menace Ontario, Nova Scotian Timberland

Belching smoke rises high over forests north of Sault Ste. Marie, but progress is reported by men in Mississagi, Wawa and Batchawana areas. These men had to jump into lake to escape flames.

Harvesting Of Huge Crops
On Prairies Slowed By Rain

OTTAWA (CP) — Wet, cool weather during the last week has delayed the harvesting of an estimated 360,000,000 bushel wheat crop in the prairie provinces, the Bureau of Statistics said Tuesday in the ninth of a series of 11 telegraphic reports on conditions throughout Canada.

Dry weather is urgently needed to prevent loss in southern Manitoba, where a large part of the crop is swathed or cut and the remainder is dead ripe. Elsewhere on the plains this problem is not so pressing and rain is benefiting late crops.

Rains have delayed harvesting operations in central and northern districts of Saskatchewan, but are proving beneficial to late fields of coarse grains and flax. Sawfly damage is causing considerable loss in wheat over wide areas, especially in southern and western districts, and grasshoppers are becoming more numerous in some areas. Good progress has been made with harvesting in the southwest, where many fields have been swathed to prevent further losses from sawfly damage.

In Alberta, continued cool weather and rains have delayed harvesting operations and retarded ripening of the more advanced crops. However, the added rainfall was beneficial to filling of late crops in most districts. Warmer weather is required to bring the crops to maturity before early frosts, particularly in the northern districts. Harvesting is expected to become general over the southern half of the province next week, but in the northern areas only some barley fields will be cut before the end of the month. Prospects remain fair to good except in the southeastern and east central districts, where earlier drought conditions adversely affected prospective yields.

The weather has been very hot and dry in Ontario for the last several weeks, with the exception of local thundershowers in southwestern Ontario last week-end. Late crops need rain badly.

Hitler's Physician,
Other Experimenters
To Die On Gallows

NUERNBERG (AP) — Adolf Hitler's personal physician and six other Germans convicted of using Nazi concentration camp prisoners as guinea pigs in inhuman and worthless medical experiments were sentenced by a U.S. war crimes court today to die on the gallows.

Five other men convicted Tuesday on the same charges were sentenced to spend the rest of their lives in prison, while four persons, including the lone woman to face the accusations, received lighter prison terms ranging from 10 to 20 years. The woman, Herta Oberhauser, got 20 years for her work at Ravensbruck, where thousands of women prisoners perished.

Seven doctors who faced the court during the lengthy trial were acquitted.

Hitler's doctor, Karl Brandt, an S.S. general and chief of the Reich's medical branch, was found guilty of conducting high altitude and freezing experiments on prisoners, as well as carrying on malaria, mustard gas and sterilization tests which brought death to countless victims.

Others condemned to death were: Karl Gebhardt, S.S. general, president of the German Red Cross and personal physician to Heinrich Himmler; Rudolf Brandt, Himmler's adjutant and chief of the S.S. hygiene institute; Joachim Murgowsky, chief hygienist of the S.S. medical corps; Wolfram Sievers, S.S. colonel and director of military research institute; Victor Brack, S.S. colonel and chief administrative officer under Martin Bormann; and Waldemar Hoven, chief medical officer at Buchenwald.

New Zealand Plans
Help For Britain

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuter) — Prime Minister Peter Fraser has called a national conference here to consider ways of helping Britain in her current economic crisis and Prime Minister Attlee is expected to send details on how New Zealand can best render aid.

It was learned Attlee already has appealed to the Dominion to keep imports from Britain at least within the limits of current income, to speed up the turn-around of ships, to reduce gasoline consumption, and to observe maximum economy in all items of currency expenditure, especially in tobacco, motion pictures and paper.

Petrillo Bans
'Free' FM Music

CHICAGO (AP) — James C. Petrillo, A.F.L. musicians chairman, has rejected a request of the major radio networks that union musicians be allowed to play simultaneously for AM and FM broadcasting.

Estimating that within a few years there will be 3,000 or more FM broadcasting stations, Petrillo told a news conference "where will the musicians be, if they give this free music now?"

Sweeping Changes
Made By C.P.R. In New Administration

VANCOUVER (CP) — Administrative changes on a sweeping scale in the operational control of the Canadian Pacific Railway were announced here Tuesday night by W. M. Neal, chairman and president of the company.

Mr. Neal, speaking at a civic dinner during which he was made a freeman of this west coast port, said the operating set-up will now consist of three regions—eastern, prairie and Pacific. It will replace the former eastern and western lines groups.

The new Pacific region will be under a vice-president, George H. Baillie of Winnipeg and Vancouver and youthful general manager of what has previously been known as western lines. Mr. Neal said appointment of Mr. Baillie as vice-president was "effective this minute."

Headquarters of the new region will be in Vancouver and will have jurisdiction, over rail, coast steamships and related services.

W. A. Mather of Winnipeg, formerly vice-president of western lines, becomes vice-president of the prairie region, while N. R. Crump of Toronto, now vice-president and general manager of eastern lines, becomes vice-president of the eastern region.

Mr. Neal said the reorganization had been brought about by the realization that the Pacific Coast had a number of problems in rail, water and air transportation "which are peculiar to themselves."

A number of staff changes would be involved in the reorganization and they would be made known at once, he added.

9 Days In Wilds,
Pilot Rescued

HALIFAX (CP) — Although his light plane turned over when making a forced landing Aug. 10 in the rough country near Lac Aubin, on the Quebec Gulf shore, Pilot J. B. Mutton of Pickering, Ont., escaped injury and waited nine days for rescue planes.

Sighted from the air Tuesday by a U.S. search plane, Mutton was picked up and taken to the hospital at Goose Bay, Labrador.

Mutton, alone in the light Fox Moth plane, took off from Rapid Lake, Que., Aug. 10, en route to Goose Bay on a photographic mission.

Another search, that for a Fleet Canuck aircraft with two men aboard which has been missing since Aug. 8, has been abandoned.

Aboard were Pilot John MacLean of Hopewell, N.S., and Norman Crewe of Waverley, N.S.

Jap Loss Probe Set
For Oct. 1 In East

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mr. Justice H. I. Bird of the B.C. Appeal Court said here he hoped his official inquiry into Japanese-Canadian property-loss claims would open Oct. 1, "probably in the east."

Mr. Justice Bird said he would advertise for claimants when the Justice Department appointed counsel for Canada's Custodian of Enemy Property.

Europe Can Produce

SEATTLE (AP) — Expressing faith in the economic recovery of Europe, Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman declared at a news conference here today that "there is no doubt in my mind that Europe can increase its productivity."

Australian Wool Growers Hope
To Meet Challenge Of Synthetics

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Australia, its external trade riding on the sheep's back, has a three-fold hope of keeping its rich wool industry booming in the face of the challenge of synthetics and continued United States tariff.

Men in the wool industry, which brings in as much foreign exchange as all Australia's other exports combined, have pinned their faith in the maintenance of this season's unprecedented high prices of fleece in:

1. Development of gossamer-light woolen fabrics on a commercial basis that will compete with silk and nylon.

2. Rising United States demand for woolen clothes that will continue to outstrip American domestic production of wool.

3. Opening of sales outlets to millions of Asiatics who have never used wool, combined with bigger sales, to wool-starved Europe.

U.S. buyers bid top prices in the sales last year, taking 1,024,270 bales, one-third of Australia's clip and 10 times the quantity that went to the United States before the war. Their enthusiastic bidding was the biggest reason for the record average price of 24.48¢ Australian pence (about 33 cents) a pound for greasy wool, and 41.48¢ pence (56 cents) a pound, for scoured. The United States took twice as much wool as Britain.

Australian government scientists are carrying out research into the manufacture of feather-weight wools. Making of fine "lighter than silk" woolen cloth has been reported here as being put on a commercial basis in Britain.

Australia's sheep population today is around 96,000,000, down 25,000,000 from the peak of 1942 because of drought and heavy killing for food. Almost 80,000,000 sheep are merinos, which produce one-fourth of the world's wool.

THE PRIME REQUISITE

TO WHAT DEGREE THE CITY COUNCIL is compounding its traffic problems by new parking ordinances will be ascertained only through the experience of the coming months. Certainly, regulation is necessary if the even flow of vehicles is to be maintained. And it will be generally recognized that each parking by-law or amendment carries with it some element of inconvenience to some motor car operators. But the cardinal factor in any arrangement governing the control of cars and buses appears to us to be one of public safety. That must be the dominating consideration in any regulations that are promulgated.

With the latter point in mind, it should be obvious that every intersection and even some of the straight stretches of road are dangerous to the traveling public if those at the wheels of automobiles are irresponsible. No amendment of existing by-laws will eliminate danger if the driver is not made thoroughly conscious of his obligations on the street. That point is particularly evident at this season when pedestrians have an opportunity to compare and contrast the driving habits of many Victorians with the more courteous practices of visitors from the United States. The tourists who bring their cars to this capital are constantly giving local residents an object lesson in road etiquette. When the visitor approaches a pedestrian crossing, for instance, he almost invariably slows down. When he makes a right hand turn, he is careful to observe the right of way. Victoria motorists, in many instances, can claim no such record.

Casual observance of conditions on our streets incline many of the residents, particularly those who do little if any driving, to think the time has arrived for less official consideration of the grand strategy of traffic and closer application to the enforcement of ordinary automobile driving regulations and courtesies. No string of parking meters will impose restraints on careless driving. What the citizens want is enforcement of laws and practices safeguarding the public.

STILL OBSTRUCTING

RUSSIA STILL SEEMS AVERSE TO THE restoration of tranquillity in the Balkans. Mr. Gromyko used the veto yesterday at Lake Success to block further operations of the border-watching commission. It is now expected that Moscow will order the Soviet representative on this body to have nothing further to do with its deliberations. This is extremely unfortunate because it automatically undermines the efficacy of the major peace-enforcing agency of the United Nations. No matter what Mr. Gromyko may say, no matter how the men in charge at the Kremlin may try to explain their orders for this 16th application of the veto, the simple fact is emphasized that Russian collaboration and co-operation under the terms of the San Francisco Charter will be dictated largely by the Politburo's international political interests and designs.

Yesterday's developments at Lake Success, on the other hand, may not be bereft of usefulness. Moscow's dictation of the course pursued by Mr. Gromyko obviously will oblige the Security Council to transfer the whole Balkan situation to the consideration of the General Assembly of the United Nations when it convenes in New York next month. To what extent the membership of the organization will go in its desire to underscore the futility of the Soviet Union's obstructionist tactics for the instruction of the peace-loving world must remain on the knees of the gods. Back of these considerations is the obvious desire to keep Russia as a working partner in the cause of universal peace. Her present behavior is not an encouraging augury. A full-dress discussion, nevertheless, may help to persuade Moscow to take a more co-operative line of action.

TEMPORARY HELP

CONCESSIONS WHICH BRITAIN appears likely to gain at the monetary conference in Washington will in no sense provide a cure for her present economic ills, but they may lighten in a small way the burden which must be borne until a major readjustment can be made in the loan agreement. The existing loan, amounting to $3,750,000,000, was originally designed to tide Britain over the rehabilitation period until 1950. However, drawings against the credit have been so heavy that it is expected to be exhausted within the next few weeks. A further loan, or action under the "Marshall Plan," must await the deliberations of Congress early in 1948. There is therefore an interim period which must be bridged in one way or another.

With a full realization of her position, Britain already has undertaken to increase production, cut down home consumption, and in general brace herself for greater efforts until further help can be obtained. But it is not likely these measures will be sufficient under the circumstances, and the present conference at Washington is an attempt to provide temporary assistance—"easement" for which Mr. Attlee hoped.

One step in this direction is the removal of some of the restrictions which curb free use of the original loan. Under its provisions, Britain has to make her purchases without discrimination from the United States, unless price and quality are better elsewhere. This prevents her buying in the sterling areas, which would ease the demand on her small store of dollars. Indications are that this concession will be granted. Its general effect would be to foster a swing of British purchases from the United States to the Dominions, and while Britain's position would remain critical, there might be some slight amelioration of her present burden.

HEMISPHERIC DEFENCE

MOST OF THE EYES OF THE PEACE-loving people of this Western Hemisphere are trained on the proceedings now taking place in the Brazilian city of Petropolis—a fashionable suburb of Rio de Janeiro. Canadians, Americans, and the peoples of all the Latin American republics are intimately concerned with the decisions to which the delegates to this conference will be authorized by their respective governments to subscribe.

As we have already pointed out in these columns, this gathering of the Foreign Ministers of the 21 states which comprise the Pan-American Union has engaged itself almost exclusively with the establishment of a defensive organization which is intended to confirm and give force and effect to the Act of Chapultepec that took form in Mexico a month before the opening of the United Nations Conference in San Francisco in the early spring of 1945.

To be sure, such arrangements as may be agreed upon by the conferees at Petropolis may be termed by the skeptics as either Utopian or wishful thinking. But the important fact remains that the framework within which these deliberations are being conducted represents the fundamental ambition enunciated by the late President Roosevelt when he fashioned what he rightly termed the Good Neighbor policy for the New World. The men in charge of the Kremlin at Moscow, of course, may interpret these proceedings as a challenge to Russia and Russian policy.

During and ever since the conference in San Francisco, at which the United Nations Charter was formed and approved, statesmen of the Soviet Union have been noted for their lack of practical co-operation in all matters designed for the preservation of peace to which Russia's wartime allies have subscribed without equivocation. And it is not necessary to point out at this stage that Prime Minister Stalin and his colleagues of the Politburo are fully aware of the fact. With that knowledge in mind, therefore, one is almost compelled to invoke the Shakespearean dictum that "suspicion always haunts the guilty mind."

INTELLIGENT COURSE

CONSTRUCTIVE PURPOSE AND INTELLIGENT development are suggested in the arrangements made for the visit of Dominion and Provincial agricultural department officials to Hornby Island this week. The fertility of the valley there has already been proved by farmers whose success with early crops of potatoes and with certain bulbs has drawn merited attention. Intensification of seed growing will await advice from the experts of the Dominion and British Columbia governments who will be able to steer experimental agriculturalists into channels which should yield substantial returns for their efforts.

On the face of the arrangements that have been made, they should set a pattern for other communities which wish to expand their productiveness by the establishment of industries which must be developed if this province is to fulfill the promise it holds for new settlers. Here is an instance in which science is being wedded to natural progressiveness in a marriage which should produce the domestic stability that augurs well for the future. The people of Hornby Island recognize the richness of the ground they till. They want further information to create a higher standard and higher certification for their output. They have pursued the course of wisdom in securing the services of those best able to assist them in this highly worthwhile objective.

SPREADING THE WORD

WESTERN CANADA WILL HAVE A firm friend in Sir Ernest R. Canning, who, following in the footsteps of Sir Alexander Mackenzie, has rediscovered the country west of the Great Lakes. Sir Ernest, a former Lord Mayor of Birmingham and managing director of an electroplating firm, is at present making his first visit to this part of the continent. "The west is too great and too distant to be run from Toronto," he is reported as saying. "That is the gospel I am going back to England to preach."

This may be a new thought for those in Britain whose commercial contacts have been exclusively with the industrial and financial establishments of Ontario; and the efforts of Sir Ernest to inform them of the greatness of our quarter of the continent will be much appreciated here. But there will be many whose knowledge already extends this far—the many British ladies who trained out here under the Commonwealth Air Training Scheme, some of whom are returning to live, the relatives of war brides, and others in the homeland whose contact has been in the realm of family ties rather than in the course of commercial activity. Having spread the good word still further in Britain, we might set to and do a little missionary work in Ontario itself.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
FRANCE HAS CHOSEN

IN THE PAST MONTHS, a very great event has been taking shape, inconspicuously, almost intangibly, yet decisively. If one can depend upon official Washington's best judgment, France has been making her choice at last. The makers of French policy are no longer seeking fruitlessly to "mediate" in the world-embracing contest between the western and Soviet systems. Instead, with courage, France has chosen the west.

This may sound grandiloquent and vague. On the contrary, however, it actually promises the most solid progress in several vital directions. For example, the outline of a solution of the German problem (which had so long seemed literally insoluble) now seems to be emerging.

SUCH DEVELOPMENTS are not completed overnight, and there is still a marked difference between the British and Americans on the one hand, and the French on the other, on the question of timing. At the Anglo-Franco-American conference on the German level of industry, the British and Americans will press for immediate decisions permitting the reconstruction of the German economy on a modestly healthy basis. The British and American zones are by far the most populous, and contain the greatest concentration of German industry. Even a few months of delay will mean leaving Germany for another year what it is today—a vast, poison-breeding slum in the midst of Europe.

The French, on the other hand, are understood to wish to defer decisions until the November meeting of the Foreign Ministers in London. Then, being sensible men, their policy-makers anticipate another failure to agree as complete as the failure in Moscow.

THIS, IT IS FURTHER understood, will give them, in the eyes of France and the world, a starting point from which they can set a new course. The French zone of Germany will then, if all goes well, be merged with the Anglo-American zone. And, thus, in turn, the Ruhr problem, which is the heart of the German problem in France's eyes, will at last become soluble.

Long since, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault proposed management of the Ruhr by an international consortium. The Americans are now pressing the British to confide the Ruhr (which is, of course, in the British zone) to an inter-zonal directorate. If the French zone is joined to the Anglo-American zone, the French will be represented on the inter-zonal directorate, and the international consortium will thus, automatically, come into being. Bidault has also pressed, very wisely, for integration of the Ruhr resources into a plan for the European economy. This will be accomplished within the framework of the Marshall plan.

THIS IS, OF COURSE, looking very far into the future. There are quite obviously two possible ways in which the present trend can be reversed. The first is the least likely.

It is the possibility that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov may arrive at the November conference with his briefcase bulging with really important concessions to the French viewpoint on Germany. This would be a remarkable about turn. In Moscow, Bidault was treated by the Soviet negotiators with a contempt which they did not trouble to conceal. Yet the Soviets have made about turns before, when in their view practical considerations demanded them. And there have been vague hints that such a reversal is actually being considered in the Kremlin.

THE SECOND possibility is that the representatives of the United States might revert to their former myopic method of dealing with France's German interests.

To the French, this method has been utterly incomprehensible. To an American, familiar with the vagaries of U.S. government, nothing has been easier to understand. Until Secretary Marshall moved into the State Department, American policy was the sum of what was being done in a series of little semi-independent empires. One such was Germany. Those in control of American policy in Germany were brilliantly able men. It would be difficult to find a finer, more devoted, or more capable public servant than General Lucius D. Clay. But General Clay, and the others directly concerned with Germany, were not concerned with anything else. Therefore, they quite naturally wished to enforce the simplest possible solutions of the German problem, as promptly as possible and without regard to anything else.

FRANCE'S INTERESTS were opposed to these solutions, and friction was inevitable. The last manifestation of this sort of attempt to make policy for Germany alone occurred when Secretary Marshall forbade announcement of a rise in the German level of industry only 24 hours before it was to be made. This past record makes it all the more necessary that the French views should be sympathetically considered at the forthcoming London talks. If there is an honest meeting of minds, the French can surely be relied upon to approve those steps in Germany which are economically essential to take at once.

The whole matter, of course, vastly transcends in importance the immediate future of Germany alone. For unless there is a firm agreement between the French, the British, and the United States on the German problem, the Marshall plan cannot succeed.

To Bring Back The Glory That Was Greece

Valley In The Sun

By ART STOTT

THE HOT OKANAGAN sun beats down on the grey sandy hills that roll up from a shimmering lake. It brings growing and ripening warmth to the geometrically neat patches of green orchard, which give the valley its chief source of wealth. And it surrounds the visitor with a hospitable benevolence matched by the friendliness of the people who are building their country into a highly productive garden land in which all Canada should take pride.

Midway down the eastern side of the lake, Kelowna typifies the spirit and the energy of the valley. Here, less than 100 years ago, two Frenchmen staked out acreage along shores that were luxuriant in growth where water was accessible, but rose in benches and hills to sagebrush and jack pine stretches that barely indicated the immense potential fertility of the soil. Here, too, came Basque monks on their joint mission of extending Christianity and broadening the area which needed only water to fulfil its destiny.

PROMISE FULFILLED

Now, less than a century later, the country is one to invite the eye, its fruit trees laden with a crop that will maintain the high reputation of Okanagan apples, peaches and other produce all over the world—a land that returned a yield worth $27,000,000 to the farmers who worked it last year.

It took imagination and hard work to bring the water down from the hills to these orchards, to provide the catalyst that transformed the dry soil into a marvel of fecundity. And it requires enterprise and continued hard work to maintain its fruitfulness. That is no insurmountable obstacle to the people who have brought to their valley a vitality of their own, who have grown in strength as they have reclaimed more of the apparently arid territory. Kelowna, its environs, and other lake towns are samples of the rewards of well-directed effort.

Nor does the valley spirit show any signs of deterioration. The thousands of tourists who include the Kelowna regatta, or other community festivals of the Okanagan, in their summer schedule are as impressed with the vigor, the esprit de corps, of the organizers and workers as they are with the high standard of performance presented for their entertainment.

SYMBOLIC

The regatta is symbolic. It attracts holiday-makers from all parts of the continent and the excellence of its staging, the color of the spectacle, the calibre of the competition, and the open-handed hospitality of the home folk make it more than a simple carnival. Everything centres on the events before the Aquatic Club during regatta week. Business activities are controlled to avoid interference with the show—and what a spectacular piece of showmanship it is! From the farms come the owners, domestic chores limited to a minimum for the few who are left in charge.

From the stores and offices come all who are not required to meet the needs of the influx of outsiders. From adjacent towns, Vernon and Penticton, come valley residents to join in the festivities.

Everyone in Kelowna seems to work on the regatta. One heads a committee that billets visiting contestants. Another directs special police engaged to handle the crowds. Each department of the water carnival has its own co-ordinating group. And we suspect there is a special body to write "sorry" notes to would-be visitors who cannot secure accommodation reservations.

HOSPITALITY

The Victorian feels immediately at home in Kelowna. The host who met him at the train was probably a fellow townsman of a few years ago. His recurring meetings with other Okanagan residents confirm the close bonds between the capital and the orchard centre. And if the Victorian is impressed by the ease with which he is accepted, by the outstanding cordiality of his hosts—and every Kelownan is a host during regatta week—he is equally appreciative of the sound, energetic outlook of the people. This is their home—for many a new home—and they are as determined to help it increase its stature as are those of longer standing who laid the foundations for its general prosperity. It seems a young man's town—a focal point in a section of British Columbia which, measures past successes only in terms of greater future possibilities.

Liberalism On The Newsstands

A successor to the National Liberal Monthly, which has been discontinued since the war, has appeared in the shape of the Canadian Liberal, a quarterly survey of national affairs published by the National Liberal Federation at Ottawa. The pocket-size periodical has made its bow before the public with the summer edition, and it will seek through the publication of authoritative articles on current trends to fulfill its editorial aim "to advance the great liberal principles of freedom and progress, and to present for serious consideration methods of applying these ideals to modern conditions of life."

The composition of the editorial board augurs well for the future of the magazine, containing as it does the names of seven well-known Canadians: Hon. Norman Lambert, Hon. Gray Turgeon, Hon. Charles Bishop, John Sturtevant, K.C., H. E. Kidd, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., and J. Gordon Fogo, K.C. Contributors to the first issue include among others, P. J. Philip, a journalistic veteran of 24 years in Paris, most of them as correspondent for the New York Times, who is now stationed in Ottawa; Mary Lowry Ross, whose reviews and humorous writings are well known to Canadian readers; and Claude

Sanagan, editor of Ontario dailies and former chief of the Liberal News of Canada.

While the Dominion has its full measure of political pamphlets and regular publication of a straight political party nature, the new magazine will fill a need for interesting comment and accurate information based on current events. Such lessons in the benefit of the Liberal philosophy as it may carry will be more in the nature of deductions which those who read may make, if they be so minded. The new venture is a national magazine, and as such it should be well received by Canadians throughout the Dominion.—B.A.T.

Handshake Analysis

The Times of London

The English like to think themselves responsible for the custom of the handshake, and, like so many pioneers and inventors, have lived to see their original conception exaggerated out of recognition. It was flattering to suppose that our straightforward, mainly custom was superior to the nose-rubbing and cheek-kissings favored by others, but the shameful show of emotion it was designed to conceal now too often insists on breaking in. Indeed the handshake in the hands of the modern expert is as capable of as many gradations as the causes of the quarrel as elaborated by Touchstone, and can range from the frigidly formal to the painfully ecstatic; and, what is more, to add to the complications, there is, on occasions, the question whether the handshake should take place at all.

Even in a society busy in equalizing itself there is one school which looks on the handshake as part of the pattern of normal social intercourse and another which has to conceal its surprise when the ritual is plainly demanded of it. There are many objections to the telephone, but at least the first move in acquaintance or conversation is clear. "Hullo" is "hullo" in any language, however varying the accent, and the right hand can be kept safely in the pocket.

Global Survey

By GLENN BABB

AP Foreign News Analyst
The United Nations has come to an ominous dead end in its efforts to halt the menacing march of events in the Balkans. Once again the Soviet veto has been invoked to nullify the will of the majority of civilized mankind. The comparatively mild and inoffensive Australian and American proposals—they amounted only to an appeal to the Soviet satellites to cease and desist in their campaign against Greece—were thrown out, although only Russia and Poland of the 11 Security Council members opposed them.

The atmosphere at Lake Success last night after this breakdown of the peace machinery was charged with gloom. The Security Council admitted its inability to go further. The United States delegate already had said that his country would not stand idly by even if the United Nations were unable to act. But even that assurance of American determination to help Greece had an ominous significance for advocates of the United Nations and world peace machinery. If it is carried into effect, it means that once more the United States and its friends, in order to get effective action, must by-pass, work outside, perhaps eventually even abandon, the organization that was erected so hopefully in San Francisco as victory was being won on the battlefields.

CLARIFYING

How the United States and her friends can move to prevent the engulfment of Greece in the totalitarian tide that has swept over most of southeastern Europe remains to be indicated. Any effective course must be plotted with the utmost care, for the consequences may be far-reaching and terrible. But the course of those who have worked to prevent a unified effort to keep the peace in the Balkans is becoming clearer.

The indications are strong that the now familiar device of the puppet state is to be invoked as the next major step. It is hard to escape any other conclusion concerning Friday night's announcement by "Gen. Markos" Vafiades, leader of the guerrillas defying the Greek government in the north, that he had undertaken to administer a "democratic government" until "provisional government" could be formed.

News of the fighting indicates the Markos forces are consolidating a foothold from which it may be difficult for the present Greek army to oust them. And behind them are friendly territories into which they may retire when too hard pressed and from which help will be expected.

The Greek government has been predicting such a development for some weeks: First, formation of a guerrilla government; second, its recognition as the legitimate Greek government by the states which are blocking United Nations action; third, direct and undisguised aid and support to such a regime by those states. They would argue that such aid was as legitimate as any given the Athens government by the United States or any other power. And then the battle lines really would be drawn.

CALORIES AND MUSICIANS

Windsor Star
A British publication estimates that drummers need 7,200 calories of food daily, violinists 6,000, and pianists 4,000. The conductor, who often makes it appear that he is working very hard and earnestly, can fend off malnutrition with a mere 3,200 calories, or about the same quantity that is allotted to a Ruhr coal miner.

After scanning these figures, one will hesitate to inquire into the caloric requirements of xylophonists, or worse still, of those chappies who perform on three-part instruments. The statistics, however, carry a subtle suggestion for Department of Agriculture officials. "In times of glut don't plow under. Raise more musicians."

PAYS ITS WAY

B.C. Financial Times
Experts say that, properly handled, the business of entertaining guests from other countries will, within the next five years, make more jobs for Canadians than any other phase of the country's economic life. It is a business that can be expanded to a position where it might well do for Canada what it did for pre-war Switzerland where one-seventh of the entire population was supported solely by tourist receipts.

Truly, the tourist industry is one that has no smoke stacks and yet its value to employment and prosperity for Canada is almost incalculable.

Saanich Council Adjourns Hearing On Zoning By-law

A public hearing was held in Saanich Municipal Hall Tuesday with regard to proposed amendments to the zoning by-law which would establish a minimum floor area of 800 feet, excluding basement or garage, for all dwellings which may be erected in the area bounded by East Saanich Road, Cordova Bay Road, Lake District and Claremont Avenue.

The hearing was adjourned for two weeks by the council which desired more time to consider the question and to permit other interested parties to partake in the hearing.

Only a handful of ratepayers attended but in no way were they unanimous in favor of the proposed amendment.

One ratepayer, who received the strong support of Councillor Tom Alexander, contended it would prevent a man from building a home to accommodate two persons.

"Land at present is selling at a high price, above its true value," he said. "In a few years it will come down."

On the other side, ratepayers claimed the amendment would prevent the construction of shacks in the area, but Councillor Alexander pointed out that all homes had to conform to building by-laws.

Some councillors were of the opinion the amendment should be passed so that the area could be preserved as a residential district.

"Does that mean if I wanted to build a home on my property to accommodate two persons that I would be obliged to have a floor area of 800 feet?" asked a ratepayer.

"That's right," replied Councillor E. P. Cummins.

Ratepayers Want Municipal Manager

A request from Ward Four Ratepayers Association for a manager to replace the present form of municipal government in Saanich caused a warm debate at a meeting of the Saanich Council Tuesday.

Councillor Len Hobbs said ratepayers were better represented by the ward system through their respective representatives, and he pointed out that citizens were better served when power was disseminated among a group rather than in one man.

"Considerable material has been written on the subject but I think it will be found that the ward system is the better of the two," he said.

In favor of a municipal manager was Councillor W. C. Kersey who said that the system of managing a municipality through a reeve and councillors was inefficient and allowed no continuity of plan.

The councillor was taken to task by Reeve E. G. Warren, who asked him to show where previous councils had shown no continuity of plan.

Councillor Kersey mentioned a motion which he said had been passed by the 1946 council and rescinded by this year's group. But the reeve disagreed and promised to produce at the next meeting documents to prove the councillor was wrong.

The matter was laid over for further consideration.

Saanich Will Pay Workers' Mileage

After a lengthy discussion, Saanich Council, at a meeting Tuesday, could not decide whether or not an employee of Saanich was entitled to transportation costs from his home to his job.

The debate arose when J. G. Little, a carpenter, who has been granted a contract to construct the new Saanich Fire Hall on East Saanich Road, entered a claim for mileage and requested the municipality to reimburse him his transportation expenditures.

Reeve E. C. Warren contended that if the mileage account was paid it would create a precedent and every municipal employee would be entitled to claim transportation costs from his home to the municipal yard.

"I'm not against paying the bill," he said, "but this might involve us in a lot of trouble."

Councillor E. P. Cummins explained that it was customary for the employer to provide transportation to employees to any place outside the city limits or from the end of streetcar lines.

He also pointed out that under the terms of a union contract between carpenters and building contractors, men are granted transportation costs if the job is more than a certain distance from the centre of Victoria.

Reeve Warren claimed Saanich was being "penalized," while Councillor Len Hobbs said he was against payment of the claim.

Councillor J. Oliver wanted the council to table the matter for further consideration.

But Councillor E. P. Cummins warned that if the man were not paid, he would walk off the job.

The warning resulted in a sudden change of mind on the part of the councillors who objected to paying the bill, and the claim was approved. But councillors felt that additional information on the subject should be obtained, and passed motion to this effect.

Delegation Protests Lack Of Water

A delegation from School District No. 63 urged Saanich Council at a public hearing Tuesday to find means to provide more water to three elementary schools in the Brentwood area.

A. Sansbury, representing the delegation, said the water supply was so poor that schools were unable to operate their sanitary facilities.

"It is difficult to ask teachers to teach hygiene when unsanitary conditions exist in the schools," he said. "Some children have to carry to school their drinking water in bottles."

Reeve E. C. Warren informed the delegation that the engineer was making an investigation with regard to the water supply for the outer districts in the municipality and a report would be forthcoming.

The delegation also requested the council to make arrangements for children to use a trail running to Cordova School which would cut walking time for approximately 20 children by half an hour.

The trail was already in existence but part of it ran through private property; it was pointed out, and the delegation felt some alternate route could be found.

The council decided to investigate the matter.

Approval was given by the council to a request from the Victoria District Boy Scouts Association, for a grant equivalent to the amount of their 1946 and 1947 taxes on property on Penryn Road.

Closing Exercises

The "parade of United Nations" was the closing theme of Strawberry Vale Community Playground. A. J. Heighes welcomed a large gathering of parents and friends. Councillor E. P. Cummins congratulated the playground on its splendid co-operation and fine display of handicrafts.

The rhythm band dressed as darky minstrels with black face and colorful capes played several novelty selections, Leila Ransom, conducting. Action songs were given by the juniors; Russian dance, Mary and Francis Kightly; French Can-Can by the boys' chorus, Douglas Mann, Victor Kightly, Jimmy Pearson, Arthur Kightly; Dutch dance and Virginia reel by the folk dancing class; sword dance, Mrs. Pearson; tumbling, under supervision of Archie Murphy; final tableau of United Nations led by Miss Betty Lahmer, playing the pipes representing Scotland, followed by Billy Mann, Indian; Alberta Heighes, Spain; Lorna Creelman, Ireland; Maureen Jones, Wales; Diane Hull, England; Jean Ransome, gypsy; Mary Kightly and Myrna Preece, Holland; and Francis Kightly, Russia.

Norma Creelman acted as announcer. Mrs. J. Jones, chairman of playground, presented Miss Evelyn Usher, supervisor, with a gift and corsage, on behalf of the mothers and children. A gift was also made to Mrs. H. Wilson, Mrs. Pearson, Keith Duncan and A. Murphy. Pop and ice cream were sold and a short dance followed in the hall.

LACK OF IRON MAY GIVE INFANTS ANEMIA

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.
Anemia in the first two years of life commonly results from infection and poor nutrition.

The treatment consists of restoring the blood to normal by special remedies, treating the infection, and connecting the nutritional deficiency.

The red blood cells, which are fewer in anemia, contain hemoglobin, which is a combination of iron, protein, and other elements. At birth, the infant has stored enough iron in his liver to last six months, as this is the period during which his diet is mainly ironless milk. Unless other foods are added during the fourth to the sixth months, the reserve in the liver will go down and too few red cells will be manufactured in the bone marrow.

Red cells are constantly destroyed as new ones are formed in their place. Turnover occurs about once every 100 days and a constant supply of iron and protein is needed for this purpose.

Although anemia, corresponding to pernicious anemia in adults, is not common in childhood, liver has been used to stimulate the bone marrow of infants in certain cases. Folic acid also has proven to be of value in some of those infancy blood diseases in which infections and nutritional problems are present.

Iron remedies should not be given to infants simply because they are pale. Special blood examinations are necessary before treatment is started. There are several varieties of infancy anemia and the same treatment is not used in all.

VITAMIN C NEEDED

Lack of vitamin C may be a cause of anemia in infancy. Breast-fed babies obtain a sufficient amount of vitamin C from their mother's milk, if she is eating enough citrus fruits, tomato juice and other vitamin C-rich foods. Children fed cow's milk mixtures need vitamin C to prevent the development of scurvy and anemia.

Transfusions for infants who have had severe hemorrhage and those who have been severely ill with infections or nutritional disorders will shorten recovery time and start the child growing again.

Question: Do you recommend contact lenses, or will they cause cancer of the eye?

Wives Can Help Husbands To Obtain Better Positions

Over half the husbands now working hate the jobs in which they are engaged. Life is too short for a wife to allow her husband to be unhappy, especially when she can help him to a better job. Job dissatisfaction brings undue grief into the home causing the man to be worried, depressed, unresponsive and cross at the children. Complete facts and true examples of how wives may help their husbands to advance into better jobs are given in the article entitled "Is He In The Right Job?" featured in "Today's Woman" magazine for September, now on sale at your magazine dealers today. Every Victoria housewife who wants her husband to be happy at his work will appreciate this article. ANCIENT INCA TEMPLE WAS CALLED 'PLACE OF GOLD'

Summer sunshine may seem, at times, too much of a good thing, but the sun is the most important object in the sky. Without it, our lives would end in a great hurry.

The Incas Indians of long ago must have known that fact. They prayed to the sun and called themselves "Children of the Sun." The first capital of their empire seems to have been the city of Cusco, a place which at this day has a population of 45,000.

Cusco is in Peru, about 200 miles northwest of Lake Titicaca. Set in the midst of tall mountains, it stands on ground which is more than two miles above sea level. Many of the clouds in this area are lower than the city, and the sun is seen in the sky most of the time from dawn until dusk.

A settlement was started at Cusco about 1,000 years ago. Here is an old legend which the Indians tell in trying to explain why the capital of the Inca empire came to be on this spot:

"Long ago a prince named Manco Capac and his wife were living on an island in Lake Titicaca. The god of the sun came to them, and handed Capac a golden rod, saying, 'Go forth with this and when it sinks in the ground, build a city there.'"

"Following the command of the god, Capac traveled northward over the plateau until he reached a spot where the rod fell from his hand, and sank into the earth until it was out of sight. That was the place where the city of Cusco grew up."

That legend is, of course, just a story of fancy, but it appears that Cusco became a centre of Inca power about five centuries before Columbus sailed the Atlantic.

A palace was built for the Inca emperor, and a temple of mighty size was reared. The

Policemen Face Charges Of Malicious Prosecution

VANCOUVER (CP)—A dismissed case against an alleged "Peeping Tom" rebounded Tuesday with two constables and the plaintiff on the receiving end of a law suit for damages on allegations of malicious prosecution and false imprisonment.

Constables Jack Watt and Richard P. Stone of the Provincial Police answered a call March 4 to Stephen Fedoruk's home. Fedoruk pointed out Bernard Frey as the "Peeping Tom."

Frey was arrested and brought to trial two days later, when Magistrate C. J. S. Farrand found the defendant to keep the peace for a year.

A Court of Appeal judgment later absolved Frey on grounds of insufficient evidence.

St. Luke's Church Wedding Scene

MR. AND MRS. RONALD BISSENDEN

Gladioli in rainbow hues banked the altar at St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill Crossroad, Saturday at 8 when Miss Margaret Virginia, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Murray, Penticton, B.C., exchanged marriage vows with Ronald Bissenden, youngest son of Mrs. Bissenden, 1470 Bromley Place, and the late George Bissenden. Rev. S. Pike read the nuptial service, and Miss Drury presided at the organ.

The petite bride, given in marriage by her brother, A. L. Murray, Vancouver, was lovely in her full-skirted gown of white nylon and lace, slightly en train. Fine silk lace outlined the circular finger-tip veil which misted from her Tudor coronet. She wore dainty lace mitts and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white heather showered with Sweetheart rosebuds and swansonia.

As maid of honor, Miss Jean Doherty of Penticton was gowned in sky blue crepe designed with fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli and white heather. Miss Norma Bissenden, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, in a gown of embossed nylon in yellow. Her bouquet was of blue gladioli and white heather.

Little Dale Brown, niece of the bride, was frocked in floral-patterned white silk and carried a Colonial nosegay for her role as flower girl.

Malcolm Bissenden was best man for his brother. Ushers were Bert Waller and William Waller. Church bells pealed as the wedding party left the church to receive guests at the future home of the bride and groom, 3346 Don-

Sue Townshend Lovely Bride
In Traditional Satin, Lace

Pristine white satin fashioned the regal gown designed with sweetheart neckline, slim bodice, sleeves pointed over the wrists and skirt gracefully en train, chosen by Miss Susan Dorothea Ellis Townshend, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Townshend, Ardmore Drive, North Saanich, for her marriage to Lewis Harvey Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hughes, 2019 Sutherland Road, which took place Tuesday at 8.

The double ring rites were solemnized by Dean Spencer H. Elliott at Christ Church Cathedral. P. H. Hughes, uncle of the groom, played wedding music.

Fragile beauty of old lace was in the bride's veil, fashioned by her maternal great-grandmother. Scarlet roses arranged in her sheaf bouquet of white carnations was the sole note of color. Mr. Townshend gave his daughter in marriage.

Identical cloud blue gowns with bustle-backed skirts slightly en train were worn by bridal attendants, Miss Beverly Neely and Miss Bernice Hughes, sister of the groom. Long lace mitts and headresses of pink carnations completed their costumes and they carried sheaf bouquets of pink carnations and white asters.

The groom chose as best man, Cyril Holt. Ushers were Peter Townshend, brother of the bride, Cyril White and Bob Cote.

The bride and groom left the church to the chiming of cathedral bells.

Mrs. Townshend, wearing floor-length gold lace, with black feathered hat and accessories and corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas, and Mrs. Hughes, attired in a street length frock of blue crepe with black hat and corsage bouquet of pink roses, received guests with the couple at the reception held at 2099 Granite Street. A three tier wedding cake, topped with a vase of sweetheart roses, centred the bride's table, which was arranged with bowls of larkspur. Major B. T. O'Grady gave the toast to the bride.

A burgundy gabardine suit, turquoise topcoat and black and white accessories were chosen by the bride for her going away costume. Following their honeymoon trip at Harrison Hot Springs and in the state of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will reside in Vancouver, where the groom will continue his studies at University of B.C.

Polish And Paint Bring Driftwood To Life

MRS. E. E. BETTS... has unusual hobby.

In the changing moods of Gonzales Bay, seen through the long plate glass windows of her large workroom, Mrs. E. E. Betts, 1785 Ross Street, finds inspiration for the creation of life-like animals and birds from bits of logs, and branches of trees cast up on the beach.

A native Californian, Mrs. Betts has lived in Victoria for just over 12 years but it was only a year ago January that she first started to indulge the hobby that is bringing her more than a little fame.

"I don't try to represent any one animal or bird," she tells you with a smile, "all I do is try to bring dead wood to life."

"Each piece suggests some particular thing to me," she continued, "once I've decided what that is, I go right ahead and finish my design."

In her collection of 60 pieces there are two-inch ash trays made from small pieces of driftwood and seashells, also five-foot lamp stands fashioned from larger logs that roll in from the sea.

Dominating the workroom that overlooks the bay is a piece named by Mrs. Betts, "When Shadows Fall." Using a three-foot log of driftwood, Mrs. Betts has created an impression of birds coming home to nest at the end of the day. Colored stones, also found on the seashore, have been used as the birds' eyes and for other ornamentation.

"Most of my material is found at Jordan River, Sooke and along the west coast of Vancouver Island," Mrs. Betts explains.

She moved a lampstand out from the collection. A solid piece of wood comprises the base; Twisted roots have been polished to represent serpents; the stem is of cedar dotted with shells, tiny starfish and crabs; head and tail of an armadillo has been used for the bowl.

Brushing her hands softly over the polished wood, Mrs. Betts added quietly, "I sometimes walk many miles to find suitable pieces for my collection."

"The Grotto," is Mrs. Betts' favorite piece. Set on four bones found in the sea, is a cork base, semi-circular in shape with an abalone shell to form the background for a small upright cross.

Sports-minded visitors always enjoy a rack for firearms, of three heads representing a bear, ape and a moose, banded together with wood.

"I have never carved any piece of my collection," Mrs. Betts tells you. "The sea has done all the carving necessary for me. All I do is the shaping and polishing."

"Then she adds with a laugh—"and the searching. You can be sure that takes up the most of my time."

Margaret McMillan Memorial To Aid Child Welfare Schools

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee, whose social welfare work 35 years ago gave him an insight into condition among the poor, has taken the lead in support of the Margaret McMillan Memorial Fund to raise £250,000 ($1,000,000) for the welfare of children.

Attlee's government, carrying on the work begun by other administrations, has introduced legislation to specify state responsibility for the care of the needy. But the money raised in memory of the late Miss McMillan will be used, not for direct work, but for training colleges and nursing schools where men and women best fitted to care for children will be given the necessary guidance.

Miss McMillan was born in the United States of Scottish ancestry and 50 years ago came to London as a music student while a dock strike was in progress. She became interested in the dockers' claims for higher wages and took an active part in their campaign.

Later she went to Bradford, Yorkshire, a mill town where infant mortality was high and children who survived passed into the factories at an early age.

Miss McMillan won a seat on the Bradford School Board and persuaded the board to provide baths, broaden the school curriculum and pay for the medical treatment of children.

She returned to London to plead for national action to save children. In 1908, assisted by a United States citizen, Joseph Falls, she started an experimental school clinic in London, her sister Rachel, co-operating in organizing helpers.

Poor and defective children came to the clinic to be trained. By 1911 grants from public authorities began. The sisters equipped gardens and open-air dormitories for their patients.

Margaret died in 1916 but Rachel carried on. She saw schools developed for training teachers of young children and was made a Companion of Honor in 1930, a year before she died.

The rooms were decorated with bowls of gladioli, sweet peas and asters and the supper table centred with a large anniversary cake, decorated in silver. Music and dancing was enjoyed with Laurence Goodmans on the piano. The honor couple received many congratulations and gifts from their friends. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. Conconi, Mr. and Mrs. K. Pederson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Thordarson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodmanson, Misses Violet and Audrey Goodmans, Ruth Thordarson, Arlene Conconi; Messrs. L. Shortage Of Nurses Still Major Problem In Canada

A critical shortage of nurses in Canadian hospitals, despite the training today of more nurses than ever before, is largely due to an expansion of service within the profession a Canadian Press survey disclosed today.

In the opinion of Dr. Harvey Agnew of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Hospital Council, the increased employment of nurses in industry and public health and in other fields such as manufacturing plants has made it more difficult for hospitals and home nursing fields to maintain a sufficient complement of nurses.

"For example," said Dr. Agnew, "Trans-Canada Airlines employs only trained nurses as stewardesses. Another factor may be relative short hours in industry and public health fields which attract trained personnel."

Reports last week from many large Canadian centres indicated that a definite shortage of nurses was hindering hospitals attempting to operate at maximum efficiency.

In Winnipeg authorities said that a shortage of nurses was hampering Manitoba's fight against poliomyelitis with the total number of cases there exceeding 125, largest of any Canadian province.

A director of nurses in Victoria, said that there was a definite shortage there with hospitals getting by only because "nurses here are working very hard." Montreal hospital officials also claimed a shortage with one hospital stating that the situation was "definitely hampering treatment."

Saint John, N.B. reported a shortage of nurses making it impossible to provide treatment for tuberculosis cases with many persons on the waiting list even though space in New Brunswick hospitals is available.

In Ontario, Hon. Russell T. Kelley, Provincial Minister of Health said that 2,900 additional nurses were needed to meet the demands of Ontario hospitals. Mr. Kelley said that while 1,400 nurses would graduate this year, actually 2,900 were needed and he gave these figures as an average yearly number required.

Mr. Kelley agreed with Dr. Agnew, giving competitive attraction from industrial work as a reason for the shortage and also said that the greater number of patients in hospitals had caused difficulty.

Dr. Agnew stated that the C.H.C. and the Canadian Nurses' Association were co-operatively studying the problem on a nationwide scale and expected to find a satisfactory solution shortly.

tically fatherless, so far as their upbringing goes, is if they have a weak and silly mother who wrecks them in the rearing and their father has to stand helplessly by, impotent to save them.

FATHER IS NEEDED

No one who faces the juvenile delinquent problem honestly but who knows that it is largely the result of fathers taking no part in the bringing up of their children. For there comes a time in the life of every adolescent boy and girl when they need the strong hand of a man, instead of the weak one of a woman over them. No matter how much the teenagers may love their mothers, they have a certain contempt for them. They think that just because Mother is a woman she knows nothing of the world, but they listen to Father's counsel and take his guidance, because they know that he knows the road they are just starting to travel.

When Mother edges Father out of the family circle because she wants to be all-in-all to her children, she makes a fatal mistake. It takes two people, working together, to do the job of rearing a family properly. Otherwise the good Lord wouldn't have bothered to make both mothers and fathers.

Dorothy Dix

DAD TOO OFTEN SHOVED IN BACKGROUND WHEN MAMA DOMINATES HOUSEHOLD

We make such a fetish of motherhood that we almost overlook the fact that children also have fathers. We have put Mother on a pedestal and burned incense before her. We celebrate Mother's Day with gifts that make her a runner-up for Santa Claus. Poor, self-sacrificing Mother is the favorite heroine of our maudlin fiction and any mammy song is a tear-jerker.

But few and far between are the bouquets that are thrown at Father. In the average household he is just Jones who pays the freight, who never makes enough money to satisfy his greedy family and who is expected to retire to the back-ground after he has passed around cigars on Junior's birth and never be heard of again until some domestic crisis arises.

Of course, biologically and socially, fathers are a necessity, but after that Mother takes over. She rules the roost. She assumes exclusive possession of the children and always speaks of them as "my son" or "my daughter," and Father interferes with her plans at his peril.

STRANGER TO CHILDREN

The result of Mother running the show is tragic from every angle. For one thing, it keeps the children and their father from ever getting acquainted with each other, and that is an irreparable misfortune to both of them. The old story about the little boy who asked his mother who was that strange man who sat around the house of Sundays is no merry jest. It is a cold, hard fact. And I personally knew of one nearly-grown lad who was astonished to find out that his father was a famous man. "Why," he exclaimed, "I didn't know Papa was anybody."

It is enough to make anyone weep to think of a man spending his life toiling to support a bunch of kids who regard him as nothing but a cash register, and who give him none of the affection that alone would pay him for his years of servitude. But how could it be otherwise when their mother has never taught them to love and respect their father, but, on the contrary, has held him as a threat of punishment over their heads?

Perhaps the greatest of all the tragedies of children being prac-

London M.P. Says Canadians Must Realize Stature To Help Britain

"Wherever I go in Canada, I am asked three questions," Hon. Arthur Howard, Conservative member of the British House of Commons for the City of London, told a meeting of the Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

"The sweetest and kindest of these questions is 'What can we in Canada do to help the people in the Old Country?'"

"This is a most difficult question for me to answer, I could say that you will help us by sending food parcels—they are most welcome—but it is no use pretending you can overshadow the fundamental issue with food parcels," Mr. Howard said.

"My answer is frank, but I hope it is not offensive. The best possible thing that Canada can do for Great Britain is to realize its own stature, wake up to the responsibilities of that stature and exercise those responsibilities."

"Any country can send delegates to an international conference for them to endorse resolutions. The thing is, will a country back up those resolutions with men and money?"

Mr. Howard said he felt Canada missed an opportunity to prove itself to the whole world when it did not leave a token force to help in the occupation of Germany.

"This business of occupation is not a pleasant one," the British parliamentarian continued. "Naturally the boys who fought in the war wanted to get home as quickly as possible. However, it is a job which has to be done no matter how irksome or difficult it may be."

Mr. Howard noted that all Canadians were not fully aware of the geographic strength of the Dominion.

WANT GOODS

Another question which Canadians ask, Mr. Howard said, is: "Are you in England going to be able to buy the goods which we want to export?"

"My answer to this question is simple," Mr. Howard said. "We need all you in Canada can produce. However, it would be folly on our part to attempt to buy all we need. We simply can't pay for it."

The third question, the speaker said, is: "How are you making out in the Old Country under the present political and economic situation?"

To answer this question Mr. Howard referred his audience to history. "During the Great War of 1914-18, the British people got ideas about establishing a heaven on earth. Somehow, between 1918 and 1939, we didn't reach this objective."

"During this last World War of 1939-45, we again got the idea of heaven on earth. When the war was over, the people wanted something started to achieve this goal. They looked back to see what had been done after the last war, and decided to experiment this time."

"They voted into office a power which was pledged to widespread experiments. It is too early to say how the experiments are going to work out. Opinions are being expressed as to the outcome but those opinions depend largely on political affiliations."

British Air Cadets Finish Canada Tour

MONTREAL (CP)—Looking tanned and fit after a three-week tour of Canada, 46 British air cadets were here today. They arrived Tuesday night at nearby Dorval Airport aboard three R.C.A.F. Dakota transports from Penfield Ridge, N.B., on the last leg of an exchange visit sponsored by the Air Cadet League of Canada.

The British cadets will return home Saturday in the same two R.A.F. York transports that are due here Thursday with 46 Canadian air cadets who have been making a similar tour of the United Kingdom.

Enthusiastic over their reception on the 7,000-mile country-wide trip, the cadets nearly all thought Vancouver was the nicest city they had seen, although each young airman emphasized the hospitality across the Dominion had been unique.

Flying in with the group was Wing Cmdr. W. F. N. Newsom, liaison officer to the Air Cadet League, who served as tour director. Senior pilot was F.R.L. W. Reeves of Ottawa.

The British cadets visited Victoria while on the B.C. coast.

COMING HOME

LONDON (CP)—A group of 46 Canadian air cadets boarded two R.A.F. York airliners at the Heathrow Airport today and took off after a three-week visit to the United Kingdom. The planes will bring back a group of British lads after a similar tour of Canada.

The planes will land at Montreal.

Victoria Youth Awarded Royal Roads Scholarship

Winner of an efficiency plaque of the Air Cadet League, Larry Crawford has been awarded an R.C.A.F. scholarship to attend the officers' training school at Royal Roads. The picture was taken at Patricia Bay, where Larry has just completed a month's course to earn his flying license.

Larry Crawford, 18, 1127 Oscar Street, has been announced winner of an R.C.A.F. scholarship to attend officers' training school at Royal Roads for two years.

This is the second announcement within a 24-hour period that young Crawford has been mentioned. Tuesday, it was announced he had been awarded an efficiency plaque of the Air Cadet League of Canada as being British Columbia's outstanding air cadet.

Crawford is a warrant officer of the Greater Victoria Air Cadet Squadron 89 and has just completed a month-long course of instruction given by Vic Shultz and Jack Jenkins of the Victoria Flying Club at Patricia Bay to earn his flying license.

Seventeen cadets from all parts of the province have taken similar instruction during the summer months and it was from these cadets that the plaque and scholarship winner was selected. Each candidate was given a half-hour test in the air and an hour test on the ground by F.R.L. Carl Lee, R.C.A.F., Vancouver. The final rating given the cadets was an average of both examinations. Although no actual scores have been released, it is understood Crawford held a considerable margin over the second-place cadet.

Crawford attended elementary and high schools in Toronto before, coming west with his mother. He has just completed first-year studies at Victoria College. His father was killed in World War II.

"Things have happened to me so fast in the last little while that I have trouble believing it all," says Larry.

TAUNTON—E. J. Lock has completed 70 years in the local church choir.

Bankruptcy Adjudged For Earl Lloyd George

LONDON (Reuter)—Earl Lloyd George, son of Britain's First World War Prime Minister, had his public examination at London bankruptcy court adjourned Tuesday until Oct. 16.

Disappointed at his 58-year-old son's "lack of interest in politics," the first earl, when he died in 1945, left the heir to his title nothing under the terms of his $141,000 ($564,000) will. Ill-health has prevented the present earl from practicing his profession of civil engineering.

It was stated in court that the latest filed statement showed the earl's liabilities at $4,142 ($16,586) and his assets at $1,894 ($7,576).

Fish Oil First On Salvage List

SEATTLE (AP)—Cargo Salvage on the sunken freighter Diamond Knot will begin with removal of 50,000 gallons of fish oil in the vessel's deep tanks. Foss Launch and Tug Co. officials said here.

Meantime divers continued to survey possibilities of saving the ship's $3,500,000 load of canned salmon, and Paul Pearson, Foss Company general manager, said salvage of the salmon was "quite likely."

10 Funniest Movie Comedians Picked By Joe E. Brown

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Enemy fire held no fear for Joe E. Brown when he entertained United States troops on battlefronts, and now he faces a graver danger—picking the 10 funniest men in film history.

Currently playing his first serious role in "The Tender Years," Joe has been able to view the laugh-making business from the sidelines. So, with scant regard to the consequences, he came up with this list of the 10 men who have made him laugh most (alphabetically):

Fred Allen, Robert Benchley, Johnny Bunny, Charles Chaplin, Jimmy Durante, Bob Hope, Harry Langdon, Harold Lloyd, Groucho Marx, Red Skelton.

SUGGESTS NEW MATERIAL

Joe said it, and he's glad. Furthermore, he thinks Skelton could be the greatest of them all, if given different material.

Danny Kaye, Jack Oakie, Frank Morgan, Jack Carson and others were considered by Joe as "character comedians" and hence eliminated from consideration. He deems Ed Wynn the funniest actor he has ever seen, but Wynn never clicked on the screen.

Joe thinks Frank Fay, who also covets with "Harvey" on the stage, would be one of the screen's greatest comics if he had stuck to low comedy instead of sophisticated stuff. "I've played with Frank when he did slapstick, and I know what he can do," added Joe.

The comic is preparing to shove off again with "Harvey." This season he'll take the six-foot bunny to Toronto and a number of U.S. cities.

RECORD NOTES

Since Phil Harris recorded Tex Williams' hit, "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke," Tex is going to wax some Harris numbers. They are vocal twins. . . . Current and listenable: Peggy Lee, "Old Love of Mine"; Count Basie, "South"; Beryl Davis, "Mother, Mother, Mother"; Delta Rhythm Boys, "Come In Out of the Rain"; Tommy Dorsey, "I'll Be There."

ATLAS THEATRE

Lina Romay, epitome of Latin glamour, was actually born in Brooklyn! Following radio engagements, she was signed by Xavier Cugat as the featured vocalist with his famous orchestra. When Cugat made his first picture, "You Were Never Lovelier," Miss Romay made her screen debut in it. In "Love Laughs at Andy Hardy," now at the Atlas Theatre, she combines singing, dancing and dramatic talents.

MONA PAULEE, brilliant young mezzo soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, who will appear here in the Hilker Attractions Greater Artist Series during the 1947-48 season. Other outstanding celebrities to appear during the season are John Charles Thomas, world-renowned baritone; De Paur's Infantry Chorus, 35 negro voices; Mischa Elman, world-famous violinist; Slavenska Ballet Variante, company of eight in spectacular European dances and classical ballets; Thomas L. Thomas, baritone; Metropolitan Opera; William Kapell, electrifying young pianist; and Richard Tauber, the great Viennese tenor.

ROYAL THEATRE

"The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," R. A. Dick's delightful best-selling novel, has been brought to the screen by Twentieth Century-Fox with Gene Tierney, Rex Harrison and George Sanders in starring roles, is now at the Royal Theatre.

Miss Tierney is seen as the stubborn young widow, Mrs. Muir; Harrison, as the sardonic and equally stubborn, Captain Gregg; and Sanders, as the philandering painter, Miles Fairley. Others in the cast include Edna Best, Vanessa Brown, Anna Lee, Robert Coote, Natalie Wood, Isabel Elsom and Victoria Horne.

OAK BAY

Bringing a flock of new song hits to the screen, "Holiday in Mexico," M-G-M's Technicolor musical, is now at the Oak Bay Theatre with a stellar cast headed by Walter Pidgeon, Jose Iturbi, Roddy McDowall, Jane Powell, Lona Massey and Xavier Cugat.

"You, So It's You," "Someone to Love," "Italian Street Song," "Yo Te Amo Mucho" and "Goodnight, Sweetheart" are a few of the melodic offerings sung by Miss Massey and Jane Powell.

Lined against one of the most colorful and unique periods in history, Republic's outdoor musical epic, "Northwest Outpost," which is currently at the Dominion Theatre, rings the bell on all counts—stars, story and song.

Nelson Eddy and Iona Massey are the romantic figures of this saga.

Eddy is dashing in the role of a buckskin-clad brave who faces danger for his lady fair with a song on his lips and a flintlock pistol in either hand. Miss Massey is an eye-filling adventures whose heart is torn between love and duty.

YORK THEATRE

Selznick's "Rebecca," Academy award mystery thriller at the York Theatre, share one of the tensely gripping climaxes of this engrossing story of fear and suspected murder, directed by Alfred Hitchcock. No Date In Sight For Settling Sums B.C. To Pay For Power Firms

Settlement of the sum the government's B.C. Power Commission will pay for three properties expropriated more than two years ago is still apparently a considerable time off.

When the commission expropriated the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities Ltd., serving the up-island centres, and two large mainland power companies on Aug. 1, 1945, arrangements were made for a supreme court judge to hear representations and decide the sum the commission must pay for the properties taken over.

Mr. Justice A. M. Harper was appointed by the government for the hearings.

Because of illness of Mr. Justice Harper, the hearings were delayed. Finally the government named Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson to succeed Mr. Justice Harper.

So far, however, the commission and the companies involved have not got very far. They have crossed swords on technical points concerning the hearings, so that no date has been set for the hearing and these technical points, so far as F. L. Shaw, commissioner with the power board knows, have not yet been cleared up. Mr. Shaw has charge of the commission's legal department.

The clearing-up of the technical details has been delayed by the absence of Senator J. W. deB. Farris, representing one of the firms, from Vancouver.

Mr. Shaw is not sure yet whether or not all the information concerning the technical points, some of which was being submitted in writing rather than as formal court argument, has yet been placed in the hands of Mr. Justice Wilson.

Previous to this the hearing had also been delayed by the appointment by the government of appraisers of the companies' properties.

Finally the American Appraisal Company of Milwaukee was hired to do the job. The commission, however, found this firm's appraisal not to its liking and hired a Vancouver firm to make an appraisal for it.

The commission, in the meantime, has paid out on account considerable portions of the estimated values of the companies to the owners.

When the case will be settled is not known, but according to Mr. Shaw, no one would be happier than himself to have the case cleared up.

Settlement of this case and opening of the commission's large Campbell River development are matters of vital concern to power consumers of the upper island.

The commission, for some time, has been contemplating revision of rate structures for the up-island centres but has thought it unwise to undertake this until it knows how much it will have to pay for the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities Ltd. properties. Until power is available from Campbell River a downward revision of rates will not be undertaken because it is feared increased consumption would overtax the limited power resources at the present time.

Alaska Described As U.S. Potential First Defence Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—Calling Alaska the potential first U.S. line of defence in the event of another war, Representative Evan Howell (Rep., Ill.) called today for its "intense" fortification.

The head of a Congressional mission which surveyed aviation facilities in the northern territory, Howell noted to reporters that Alaska lies along the nearest route between Russia and the United States, adding:

"We should do everything to develop our military installations there."

"This is not a scare statement, I am not an alarmist. But this is a sober statement in the light of world conditions. Alaska now is a strategic location."

Howell said the group of Congressmen, just returned, found the United States army engaged in a broad program of training air force pilots to fly under Arctic conditions. This program "should be pushed to the utmost."

During the war, Russian air men "had every opportunity to look at our bases in Alaska, but we had no opportunity to see theirs."

Rightists Arming In Italy; Split Into 60 Groups

ROME (AP)—Italy's rightists, although less efficiently organized than the Communists, are arming their underground groups to combat, they say, the threat implicit in the Communists' clandestine militia.

Allied and Italian security officials keep an eye on both of them, but tend to regard the rightist forces as a lesser peril to national security.

Rightist admit they have "defensive" organizations against the Communist militia, which is known as "L'Apparato"—"The Apparatus."

Allied diplomats and Allied and Italian military observers agree in estimating that the right has much greater numbers of clandestinely armed recruits than the left, but say the right forces are split into 60 or more formations.

NO LEADER OF ALL

None of these sources—nor leftist party leaders, who were also questioned—could supply the name of an over-all rightist underground leader. Geographically, the rightist organizations are scattered from Sicily to Trieste, and are estimated to be strongest in the south, neglected by the Communists in favor of the strategic north, which links Communist-ruled Yugoslavia with France's Communist south.

Further in contrast to the tightly-knit Communist "Apparato," concentrated, these sources agreed, 50,000 strong in Italy's industrial north, rightists admit that the right is split by disagreements over what their eventual aim should be: Re-establishment of a new Fascist regime, an attempt at a Communist-free democracy, restoration of the monarchy or continuation of the republic.

Coming Winter Will Sharply Test Britain's Railways

LONDON (CP)—Shortage of labor and poor condition of war-worn rolling stock will make the position of British railways "dangerous" next winter, particularly if there is a freeze-up approaching that of 1946-47, the railway union said in a report for presentation to the Trades Union Congress.

One locomotive in every five and at least one freight car in eight are out of service for repairs and 12,000 more men are needed, the report stated. Since Sept. 1, 1946, 20,000 railway workers—including 6,000 on "footplate jobs"—had left the industry.

SLOW-DOWN ORDERS

"The state of the permanent way is also a cause of anxiety," said the unions. "Concrete sleepers (ties) are being used on some stretches, but the general condition of the lines has necessitated a deceleration (slow-down) policy on many routes."

The unions suggested three remedies:

1. A "central clearing house" for distribution of repair parts, and greater use of government-owned ordnance factories to make components;

2. Quicker turn-around of freight cars, possibly by increased demurrage charges since some firms consider the existing charges less expensive than warehouse space;

3. Raising of the maximum recruiting age for railwaymen above the present 30 years, and reducing the medical qualifications.

Government spokesmen have warned that many passenger services will have to be eliminated to ensure sufficient locomotives for freight movements. It was a breakdown of transportation in last winter's severe storms, as much as over-all shortage of coal, that caused last February's industrial crisis.

Promising Pitcher

Bob Brousseau, 18-year-old lefthander of the Eagles of the senior amateur baseball league, left by plane today for Agua Caliente, California, to attend the New York Yankees' tryout camp. Described by Ted Norbert as a likely looking prospect, Brousseau will receive the benefit of some good training at the camp and if he shows enough promise may find a place in the Yankee organization. During the present season he won eight games for his club in the senior league, two of the victories being three-hitters and two four-hitters.

Legion Retains Senior Boxla League Crown

Playing off for top spot in the senior lacrosse loop last night, Ed Hall's Canadian Legion squad captured the sudden-death tilt, 15 to 12, from the Foul Bay squad. Playoffs will open tomorrow at Stevenson Park with Legion tackling James Bay in the first game of the best-of-three semifinals. The other semifinals series will pit together Foul Bay and the third-place Jokers.

Playing before a large crowd, teams dished up some speedy lacrosse, which kept the fans on the edge of their seats all the way. Winners broke through soon after the game started for two quick markers. "Foul Bay took a 3 to 2 lead halfway through the first session, but four straight markers by Legionnaires put them in front for the rest of the game.

FIVE GOAL SPLURGE

Foul Bay kept in the fight, however, and were only two goals down by the end of the first half of play. Bays outscored winners 2 to 1 in the rather slow third canto to close the gap, 10 to 9, but Legion found their stride at the start of the final session, notching five goals in the first five minutes of play. Norm Allen potted a pair of markers, with Darrell Popham, Ed McKim, and Duff McCaghey counting the others.

Bays tried desperately to overcome the lead in the last five minutes, but three goals by Dick Chungranes, Keith Ludbrooke, and Denny Shubrooke were all they could manage. Although Baker drew the only penalty of the contest, teams dished out some stiff body checking during the game.

CHUNGGRANES STARS

Pacing the Legion attack was stellar Duff McCaghey with three goals and one assist. Popham and Allen each notched three counters. However, the real star of the game was Dick Chungranes of Foul Bay, the young centre-counting four times and, assisting on two others.

Teams and scores follow:

Jack Walker Captures Amateur Batting Title

Jack Walker, heavy-hitting Legion outfielder, captured the amateur baseball league batting crown with a mark of .395, official averages released today reveal. Walker, always rated a dangerous stickler, trailed Gar Taylor of Eagles for the better part of the season, but a sudden splurge at the end of the schedule, coupled with a late season slump on the part of Taylor gave Walker the title. Jimmy Morrison, Eagles' shortstop, ended up in second place with .370, two points ahead of manager Taylor. Jeff Worrell, handyman of the Navy Squad, batted in fourth place with a season's mark of .330.

In the individual departments,

Walker captured a good share of the awards, leading the pack in hits with 51, doubles with 11, triples with five, and total bases. Harry Barber, leftfielder of the league champion Legion nine, captured the home run honors with three round-trippers to his credit and scored the most runs, crossing the dish 39 times. Mickey Smith, also of Legion, batted in 28 runs to gain honors in that department. The dominating Legion team also captured the stolen base honors. Rookie Wright pilfering 21 sacks and Barber garnering 18 for second spot.

Following is a complete list of batters with a 250 average or better for the league season (averages based on 60 or more times at bat):

SERIES DEFAULTED

Colwood senior B women's champs informed Ivan Temple, Island softball representative, last night that they have defaulted their lower island playoff with Hudson's Bay as they are leaving on holidays. As a result, Bays will tackle Ladysmith in a best-of-three series.

HUDSON'S BAY WIN CITY TITLE;

Army And Navy Defeat Electrons

With Flo Kennedy pitching a good game, Hudson's Bay, seniors A women's softball champs, captured their best-of-three series with Don Harvey's, senior B champs, in straight games, taking the insurance girls 8 to 6 last night in a game played at Sidney.

Winners tallied three times in each of the first two innings to take a big lead. Harvey's didn't get to the offerings of Kennedy until the fifth, when they closed the gap, 6 to 3. Bays scored what proved to be the winner in the sixth, when successive walks to Ruth and Vickie Murray put runners on first and second. Paterson lined out a single to bring in the former.

Losers bagged another pair in their half of the sixth, but Bays kept the game in the seventh, notching their eighth tally. Harveys counted the final tally in their half of the seventh.

Mary Kamula hurled her second game in as many nights for the losers.

Mickey Rocco Fined $50 By Loop Prexy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mickey Rocco, Seattle first baseman, drew a $50 fine today from president Clarence Rowland of the Pacific Coast League, outgrowth of a dirt-tossing episode during a contest with Sacramento last Sunday.

Rowland said Rocco was punished for "using profane and abusive language, throwing dirt on umpire Al Somers and needlessly delaying the game." The incident occurred after Rocco, trapped between second and third bases, was tagged out going into third.

Victoria High School will be the scene of a workout of the Mustangs gridiron team tonight at 7. Friday at St. Louis College, team members will attend a chalk talk at 7. Equipment will be assigned Sunday at Macdonald Park where a scrimmage will be held at 8.30 in the evening.

EVEN IN THE NINTH

With one away in the last of the ninth, Vets loaded the bags. Dyer knocked out a single to tie the issue, and Gordie Hayward pulled off the squeeze play to decide the game.

In a junior softball playoff Black and Whites dropped their first game to Marigold-Colwood in their best-of-five series last night, 8 to 7. Losers held a two-to-one edge in the series. It was announced this morning that the Marigold-Colwood squad had protested the second win posted by the city squad.

By PETE SALLAWAY

FULLY COGNIZANT of the hardships faced by the teams of the Western International League through the tremendous amount of traveling, resulting from the split week schedule, president Bob Abel is of the opinion certain changes will be made before the opening of next season. Making another flying visit to Victoria for the opening of the important Victoria-Vancouver series here Monday night Abel, who resides in Tacoma, engaged in quite a discussion with the writer over the problems the clubs have faced this summer.

IN ABEL'S OPINION the teams will have to agree to play less games. "Asking class B ball clubs, with pitching staffs of six and seven men, to engage in 154 games is foolish," the president said. "I am all in favor of making Monday a lay-off day next season and, in that way, we would give the teams a much-needed rest and also provide additional time for the long jumps. The Canadian teams (Victoria and Vancouver) could play two games on a Wednesday, afternoon and evening. If they didn't like the idea of a night doubleheader," Abel would also wash out some of the holiday doubleheaders. "Take in our country, for instance. The doubleheaders on Memorial Day don't mean a thing and result in little increased attendance," he said.

IN THE OPINION of the writer the league might also look into the plan of opening the season at a later date and continuing later into September. The middle of April is much too early for baseball in both Victoria and Vancouver. The nights are cold and raw and there is little doubt the weather at that time keeps attendance down. On the other hand, September, in the main, is a good month from a weather standpoint. Then again the horse races are operating here towards the close of the month and the ball games would benefit from the extra visitors in the city. It might be necessary to start the games a little later but that would prove no hardship.

COAST FOOTBALL LEAGUE officials apparently saw the writing on the wall when they elected to reduce the number of clubs from six to five. Last season it was evident there were not sufficient players in Vancouver to make up four balanced clubs. Kerrisdale and St. Saviours were the weak sisters and, with the former no longer operating, there will be additional players available for the remaining three. Nainaimo will also have to receive some bolstering in order to field a contender. The Victoria squad, providing it receives the support promised, should be even stronger than last season when it was in the running for the second half championship right up to the final match. This city has sufficient first-class players to strip one good intercity eleven and it is to be hoped all the top notchers will turn out with the United.

England Leads In Final Cricket Match

LONDON (Reuter)—England finished in a strong position against South Africa at the end of the third day's play in the fifth and last cricket test match of the series.

Declaring at 325 for six wickets in their second innings, England gave the South Africans the task of obtaining 451 runs for victory, but with only eight runs on the board and the tourists were one wicket down at the close of play.

Denis Compton hit his 14th century of the season in scoring 113 in 100 minutes. It was his fourth in the present test series.

Athletics Jump To Third Place By Taking Twin Bill From Caps

Leon Mohr To Remain With Vancouver Club

SEATTLE (AP)—General manager Earl Sheely of the Seattle Rainiers said last night that the acquisition of Dick Gyselman from the San Diego Padres would make it unnecessary to recall Leon Mohr, infielder with the Vancouver Western International League team.

When the Rainier infield was riddled last week by a series of injuries it was announced that Mohr, on 24-hour recall, would be brought back for the remainder of the season. Sheely said that Vancouver will not be deprived of Mohr's services unless Seattle is hit by further injuries.

Gyselman was purchased from San Diego for an undisclosed sum.

Canadian Pucksters Barred From Playing In Scottish League

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian puck chasers won't play with the Scottish Ice Hockey League next winter, it was disclosed at an executive meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association here last night.

The executive told Claude Kewley, representative of the S.I.H.L. who sought transfers for some 40 Canadian players, that no transfers would be sanctioned until the current feud between the Scottish League and the British Ice Hockey Federation has ended.

The one-year agreement under which the Canadian body allowed Kewley to import Canadian players last season is therefore terminated. Players will be suspended if they cross to Scotland for the coming season, said C.A.H.A. president Al Pickard of Regina.

With Tom Lockhart of New York and Walter Brown of Boston sitting in for the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States, the group planned strategy to be followed by Brown and C.A.H.A. Secretary George Dudley of Midland at the meeting of the International Ice Hockey Federation at Zurich, Switzerland, Sept. 6-7.

Out of this meeting will come a definite decision as to whether Canada will have a representative at the Olympic hockey championships. Also to be decided is the broader issue of whether the International Federation will forego the strict Olympic definition of an amateur and stage its own world tournament or reach a compromise with the League Internationale De Hockey Sur Glace which governs Olympic hockey.

"SPORT GOODS FOR GOOD SPORTS"

After Dick Mitchell had missed a no-hit game by the margin of one strike in shutting out Vancouver, 3 to 0, in the seven-inning opener, Victoria Athletics roared back behind the eight-hit hurling of Lenny Kasparovitch to crush the visitors, 9 to 3, last night at Athletic Park and send 4,100 odd fans home deliciously happy. The smashing double victory boosted the Athletics up into third place in the Western International League race and made them the hottest club in the mad pennant scramble.

At the conclusion of the second game several hundred fans rushed on the field to cut loose with shouting and cheering as their enthusiasm reached the breaking point. Teams close out their four-game stand tonight and manager Ted Norbert will throw the reliable Joe Blankenship against the Caps. Jim Hedgecock, with seven straight mound triumphs, will attempt to halt the pennant-bound A's with his southpaw slants.

TOUGH BREAK

Mitchell's loss of his no-hitter was a heart-breaker. With two out and two strikes and one ball on Charlie Mead the Vancouver rightfielder lined a clean single into right field. Only hitter to get anything that resembled a hit prior to the seventh was the same hitter who lined a smash to left field in the second inning that Johnny Hooper took with a beautiful running one-handed spear. When the ball left the bat it looked like a cinch double.

The Victoria second base combination of Johnny Cavalli and Leo Righetti twice gave Mitchell a helping hand with lightning-fast double plays. It was the youngster's 15th victory of the season and his eighth straight.

A's got to the veteran Pete Jones for a pair of runs in the third inning. Pat Patterson got to first on a walk and went all the way home on Hooper's triple against the rightfield fence. Bill White's double scored Hooper. They added their third and the final run of the game in the sixth on Babe Jensen's double and Cavalli's timely single.

Mitchell struck out a pair, as did Jones, but the latter gave up four walks to Mitchell's two. A's picked up a total of seven hits, with Cavalli's two for three the best performance at the plate.

WOBBLY START

After giving up three runs in the first three innings, Kasparovitch shut the door. Several times the Caps threatened, only to have the Victoria right-hander set them down. The game had a perfect finish with another Righetti to Cavalli to Harshman double play as the crowd roared. The A's got charged with five errors in the second fixture, but their extra-base clouting more than made up for the miscues.

RIGHETTI HOMERS

After Vancouver had moved into a 1 to 0 lead in the first inning on Mohr's double, followed by a fielder's choice and an outfield fly, Victoria got to Carl Gunnarson for three in the second when Righetti lined one of the southpaw's faster pitches over the centrefield fence with Jensen and Cavalli abed.

Mullens' double and a single by Mead, along with a walk and an error by Hooper allowed Vancouver to tie the score in the third.

Starting in the fifth the Victoria club commenced to roar. Hooper's triple and an outfield fly gave them a one-run lead in the fifth. "A walk to Jensen, catcher Stumph's error which moved him all the way to third and Righetti's single added another tally in the sixth. After White had walked, Manager Norbert pulled a perfect hit-and-run play with White crossing the plate when Mastro doubled to right centre to add another run in the seventh.

Just to make victory certain, the A's unloaded their big guns on Ronnie Snyder, who took over

Cardinals Bounce Back To Slaughter Brooklyn

St. Louis Cardinals' ability to come off the floor has highlighted their play in the past and apparently the 1947 season will be no exception.

Sent reeling 6½ games back of Brooklyn Dodgers Monday by two crushing defeats at the hands of the National League leaders, the Red Birds served notice yesterday that they are still not out by coming back and slaughtering the Dodgers, 11 to 3, at Ebbets Field.

Southpaw Al Brazle held the Dodgers at bay on eight hits until he wilted in the ninth.

Boston Braves moved within seven games of the Dodgers by coming from behind to nip Pittsburgh Pirates 7 to 5 in a tight game at Boston.

Bob Elliott, former Pirate, turned defeat into victory with a three-run homer with two out in the ninth.

New York Giants bowed 8 to 1 to Cincinnati Reds in a night tussle at the Polo Grounds. It was the New Yorkers eighth straight loss.

Shortstop Eddie Miller led the Reds' assault batting in six runs on a single and a grand slam homer.

Chicago Cubs dropped both ends of a twin bill to Philadelphia Phillies, 8 to 1 and 8 to 2. Ken Heintzleman and Schoolboy Rowe stopped the Cubs in that order.

In the American League, New York Yankees, dropped a 2 to 1 decision to the Tigers in Detroit. Hoot Evers broke a 1 to 1 tie with a homer off Allie Reynolds in the sixth inning.

NINTH STRAIGHT LOSS

The second-place Boston Red Sox crushed the Browns, 9 to 5, in a night game at St. Louis, and Cleveland Indians rapped out 31 hits, trouncing Washington Senators, 13 to 2 and 9 to 1, in a twilight-night doubleheader at Cleveland to extend Washington's losing streak to nine games.

At Chicago, Joe Haynes halted a four-game Philadelphia winning streak by blanking the Athletics, 4 to 0, on nine hits.

Veteran rider Emil Sporr currently in fifth position in the jockey standings, registered quadruple win by coming home on Jazz Lady in the first, Kellowa Belle in the fourth, Away Nevada in the fifth, and the 25 to 1 shot, Dark Majesty, in the sixth.

Supporting Bouts Listed For Fight Card At Armories

Four supporting bouts have been lined up for Saturday night's professional boxing card at the Armories, promoter James Foyer announced today.

Red Eyres of Vancouver will meet Dave Milne of White Rock. Bliff Howatt of Coquitlam will clash with Wally Rowan of Vancouver, and Tony Thompson of Winnipeg will battle Fritz Caya of Port Alberni. The bouts will consist of four three-minute rounds.

George Brabant, formerly of Regina and now a resident of the city, will meet Dick Miller of Illinois in the main event. Both men are featherweights and will battle over 10 rounds.

Gordie Gordienko will trade punches with Benny Drol, Peoria, Ill., in the six-round semi-wadup.

Taking the series three games to one, Spencer's midget baseball squad captured the championship last night when they edged Grenek's, 4 to 3 in the fourth game of the series. Parker hurled the win for Spencers with Hodges working on the mound for losers.

Legion-Gasmen In Second Game Of Semifinals Tonight

Canadian Legion and Pitzer and Nex will resume their best-of-three semifinal series for the right to enter the final round of the senior amateur baseball play-downs at Macdonald Park tonight at 6.30.

Legion captured the first game and will send Frank Scroggs or Bill Prior to the hill in an effort to take the series in straight games. Murray MacArthur is set to hurl for the gasmen.

Eagles and Navy will clash in the second game of their series at Athletic Park Thursday. Eagles hold a one-game edge over the sailors.

If Eagles and Legion take the series in straight games, the best-of-five finals for the Rithet Cup will commence at Athletic Park Friday with two games scheduled on Saturday. If either series goes to the third game it will take place Friday with the finals starting Saturday.

Secretary Tommy Restell announced that there is a possibility of the local champion playing off with up-island teams for island honors.

14,000 Pheasants Added In Ontario

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—The Ontario government's pheasant restocking program, aimed at releasing 26,000 birds, is well under way in western and southwestern Ontario.

Already 7,500 pheasants, to replace those killed in the past by hunters, have been released in western Ontario counties. Now the distribution will move east until every county to the Niagara Peninsula is covered.

In charge of the two pheasant farms are the Mound brothers, Stanley and Ted, considered two of Canada's leading pheasant men. They watch over the brooders, tend the fledglings and then arrange for transportation of the young birds by truck to the counties and townships that have open seasons.

Despite a bad hatching season due to wet weather, about 14,000 pheasants, an all-time record, were raised this year.

Stanley Mound, in charge at Nor-andale, said he expected the farm to have 15,000 birds for release next year. Capacity will continue to expand until in three or four years it reaches approximately 18,000.

O'Neill In Denial Of Reported Shift

DETROIT (AP)—General manager Billy Evans of the Detroit Tigers said today that manager Steve O'Neill had "enied to him a report that he would replace Joe Cronin as manager of Boston Red Sox next season.

The Boston Post said in a copy-righted story that O'Neill would take over Cronin's managerial duties and that the Red Sox skipper would succeed the ailing Eddie Collins as general manager of the Boston club.

In St. Louis, Cronin described the report as a "lot of bunk."

Both Evans and O'Neill denied a similar report circulated in Detroit earlier this month.

O'Connor, Eddolls Traded To Rangers

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Rangers of the National Hockey League announced today the acquisition from Montreal Canadiens of Herb (Buddy) O'Connor, centre, and Frankie Eddolls, defence, in return for three players from the Ranger organization.

Blueshirts traded to the Flying Frenchmen were Joe Bell, winger, and Hal Laycoe, defenceman, while rookie George Robertson will go to Montreal from New York Rangers' farm team. In addition to O'Connor and Eddolls, the Rangers received "other consideration" in the deal, the announcement said.

Bishop Hill To Meet 3 Empire Cardinals Touring Canada

Bishop James M. Hill of Victoria will arrive in Vancouver Saturday morning, to be among the bishops and clergy of the province who will meet the only three Roman Catholic cardinals in the British Commonwealth of Nations, who will hold a long-planned reunion in Vancouver, Friday.

The three cardinals are James Cardinal McGuigan of Canada, Bernard Cardinal Griffin of England and Norman Cardinal Gilroy of Australia, who will spend several days in Vancouver, before touring Canada together.

They will not visit Victoria on this visit, according to Bishop Hill.

The three cardinals met in London after receiving their red hats at a consistory in the Vatican more than a year ago and planned on the reunion, which will take place this week-end.

Archbishop W. M. Duke of Vancouver is directing plans for receiving the visitors. No more than one cardinal has ever been in Vancouver at one time and if, as expected, the three prelates together, attend a solemn pontifical high mass in the Holy Rosary Cathedral Saturday morning, it will be an historic occasion for Roman Catholics of British Columbia.

Sir Norman Birkett In City Thursday

Sir Norman Birkett, one of Britain's foremost members of the bar and a judge at the International War Criminals' Court at Nuremberg, will arrive in Victoria Thursday for a short visit.

While here, Sir Norman is scheduled to address a dinner meeting of the Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel Thursday evening, and attend a special dinner to be given at the Union Club Friday evening by members of the Bar Association here.

Six years ago, Sir Norman, then Mr. Norman Birkett, K.C., gave up the most lucrative law practice in England to become a judge of the King's Bench Division.

He was at one time president of the Cambridge debating union. He also sat in Parliament for a time, and appeared in nearly every famous civil and criminal action of his time until his appointment to the bench.

Funds Sought To Rebuild Church Dedicated To Airmen

An Oak Bay resident, H. C. Corbett, 2661 Estevan Avenue, has received a letter from a committee of citizens in Surrey and Kent counties, England, stating an appeal has been launched to rebuild a memorial church which has been destroyed by fire. The church is known as St. George's Chapel of Remembrance.

The original church was built as a memorial to all air force personnel who operated from bases in Biggin Hill, Kent, and who were killed in the war. Construction of the church was undertaken in 1940 with donations from parents, wives, relatives and friends of the pilots to be honored. The church was completed in 1943.

Two oak panels were erected on either side of the church altar, bearing the names of 453 airmen from Australia, Belgium, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, Great Britain, Holland, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, South Africa and Sweden.

The church survived the blitz, the flying bomb and the rocket but was destroyed by fire in December, 1946. Citizens of the sector formed a committee to rebuild the church and are seeking contributions for a building fund from all countries of the world whose airmen are commemorated in the church.

Britain's wartime Prime Minister, Winston Churchill, has endorsed the appeal of the Biggin Hill Memorial Committee. He has said: "It is my earnest hope that the generous spirit which first brought this memorial into being to commemorate the sacrifice and labor of the pilots of the Biggin Hill sector, will now animate this noble endeavor to create a permanent shrine of remembrance."

Victorians wishing to donate to the fund are asked to address their contributions to "Biggin Hill Memorial Fund, Lloyds Bank Ltd., Uxbridge, Middlesex, England."

Leaves For Paris

W. Harry Hickman, professor of French at Victoria College, will leave for Paris early in September to complete his Ph.D. work at the Sorbonne, working on a French government scholarship.

The scholarship, valued at 100,000 francs, which is between $900 and $1,000 Canadian money, has been given by the French government to encourage students to return to Paris. The announcement of the three winners was made through the French embassy in Ottawa.

Prof. Hickman has been given a year's leave of absence from the college staff and his place will be taken by his wife for the coming session.

He took his elementary and high school education at Vernon, B.C., and obtained his B.A. at the University of B.C. in 1930, with first-class honors in French. He won the Governor-General's gold medal that year, leading the graduating class.

This was followed by a year's study in Paris in 1930-31, under a French government scholarship. He obtained his M.A. from the University of B.C. in 1938 and this was followed by another year's study in Paris.

From 1932 to 1938 he was teacher of French at Victoria High School, and from 1939 up to the present he has been on the staff at Victoria College.

May Queen To Go To Vancouver Fair

Victoria's May Queen, Miss Kay Trevelyan and the two princesses will accompany Mayor Percy George and Mrs. George to the Pacific National Exhibition, Monday, Aug. 25.

Although Victoria's May Queen float has been dismantled the party will take part in the exhibition parade in two open cars Mayor George said today.

Mayor George will also attend the luncheon being tendered the exhibition directors by Lieutenant-Governor C. A. Banks at the Hotel Vancouver, and the opening ceremonies during the afternoon.

Eight acres near Tofino village have been reserved by the provincial government as a cemetery site. A four-man board to administer the cemetery has been set up as follows: Roy Barr, Helmer Wingen, Thomas Gibson and Anthony Guppy.

Trial Begins For Seaman Accused Of Desertion

The trial began before Magistrate Henry C. Hall today of H. W. Kelley, charged with unlawfully deserting his ship Ss. Seaboard Queen at Holtenau, Kiel Canal, Germany, contrary to the Canadian Shipping Act.

Two other seamen, D. J. Stewart and K. O'Keefe face similar charges.

Capt. John Norman Stark, master of the ship, testified the accused signed aboard the Seaboard Queen in Vancouver before the vessel left for the United Kingdom early this year.

On arrival in England the ship was ordered to proceed to Finland via the Kiel Canal, he said. The ship anchored off Holtenau on June 1 while awaiting a pilot to take them through mine fields, he said, and on the following day he was informed that Kelly as well as two other men were missing.

On the return journey through the Kiel Canal, the three men were escorted aboard the vessel by a British frontier patrol after being picked up at Holtenau, he stated. The men were resigned aboard the ship but were warned that they faced charges of desertion.

Under cross-examination by defence counsel John Stanton, the skipper said he had instructed the officer of the watch that shore leave was not to be granted to any seaman.

"Shore leave is never granted when a ship is anchored on an open roadstead," he said. "Furthermore the area was occupied by the British Army of occupation."

The captain denied that the men had drunk heavily aboard the ship on the previous night prior to sailing for Finland. Because the three men were missing, he said, he was obliged to pay short-hand money to members of the crew who replaced the three missing seamen. "Before leaving for Finland I blew the whistle," he said. "The three men were fully aware of what that means as they have had previous experience of this nature before. A tug was also sent to a jetty at Holtenau to see if the men could be found." The case is continuing.

Australia Facing Drastic Economic Measures—Chifley

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Prime Minister Chifley issued a grave warning today at the state premiers' conference at Canberra that Australia is facing drastic economic measures owing to the rapid deterioration of the dollar situation in the British Commonwealth.

Australia would find it impossible to live in a world of her own, the prime minister said, and severe restrictions on all imports into the country would be necessary unless the situation brightens.

Mr. Chifley told the premiers each Australian state must contribute to live as much as possible within itself because of Britain's present crisis.

The prime minister blamed soaring prices in the United States and failure to rehabilitate European markets as the cause of the present crisis.

"This country will have imposed pretty severe restrictions on imports. That applies not only to United States and Canadian dollars but in some measure to sterling."

Premiers leaving the conference room later expressed little hope of balancing the states' budgets on the program set down and forecast slashing cuts in transport and other non-revenue producing works.

Lightning Starts 2 Fires On Island

Lightning during the last 24 hours started two forest fires on Vancouver Island, but both are controlled.

A blaze on Skirt Mountain is being fought by the suppression crew from Langford, while another forest fire near Nanosee is being fought by a suppression crew from Parksville.

A third lightning-started fire is burning near Pender Harbor. It is also under control.

Also on Vancouver Island is a fire on the Koksilah River which is being fought by eight men.

A fire at Vancouver Bay on Jervis Inlet is being fought by 15 men.

U.K. Conservative Believes Socialism Is Here To Stay

Even though his association with the British Conservative Party dates back to the days of Joseph and Austin Chamberlain, Sir Ernest Canning, former Lord Mayor of Birmingham, today thinks socialism has come to stay in the world.

Sir Ernest, who is holidaying at the Empress Hotel with Lady Canning and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hare, was notably lacking in animosity in his references to Britain's Labor government.

The whole social life of England has changed, he said. "The socialist doctrine that the working man is going to have more of the world's goods has come to stay and we have to adjust ourselves to those circumstances."

The levelling off of classes was inevitable, he continued, pointing out that Canada was experiencing the same change.

In some ways, he finds, the Opposition fights the Labor government very hard. "But we don't leave any bitterness behind," he said. Sir Ernest believes "all parties are working together for the benefit of England."

FEAR INTELLECTUALS

What the Conservatives fear, and the best of the trade-union leaders, who brought the Labor Party into being, is the intellectual Socialists who have never produced anything in their lives, Sir Ernest said.

"The men we fear are the Laski type, from the London School of Economics. We've got to fight them," he added.

The Englishman also believes in the necessity of present heavy taxation, for which he does not see a lessening in his own lifetime. "Heavy taxation cannot be got away from," he said.

Of conditions in England he had a good report. Rationing has been the most successful in the world because it has been absolutely fair and just, giving an equal share to all classes, Sir Ernest claims.

"We have no distress. We have enough to eat. We would like more variety, but we are healthy. Our children have never been so healthy." Britain has every hope that she can keep the health of her children better than it has ever been before, he added.

OPTIMISTIC OVER FUTURE

Of Britain's future, Sir Ernest is optimistic. At present Britain is very short of essential raw materials for certain trades, he said, but he believes two more good crop years will allow the United Kingdom to see daylight through the dark clouds of her problems.

He also has great hopes for the future of western Canada, and was pleased to see the announcement of William M. Neal, Canadian Pacific Railway president, that Vancouver is now the home of the head office of the newly-formed C.P.R. Pacific coast district.

Sir Ernest believes a whole new world is springing up in western Canada and does not subscribe to the belief of many of his compatriots that Canada stops at Toronto.

Sir Ernest, now chairman of the Birmingham Conservative Association, used to work for the famous Conservative Joseph Chamberlain, and for many years was chairman for Sir Austin Chamberlain, who followed his father.

British Columbia To Be Featured In National Geographic

Lee A. Borah, a member of the editorial staff of the National Geographic Magazine for the past 20 years, left Victoria Tuesday night following a four-day stay on Vancouver Island in which time he gathered material for a forthcoming article to appear in his magazine, George I. Warren, commissioner of Victoria and island publicity, announced today.

Mr. Borah arrived in Victoria on Saturday and was taken by Mr. Warren to a number of Victoria gardens, through the Uplands district, over the Malahat and then up island to Duncan, Nanaimo and Qualicum Beach.

Mr. Warren says the National Geographic Magazine intends to publish a 24-page article on British Columbia with many colored pictures. Mr. Borah is now on his way to the Okanagan valley to gather further material there.

"He was very favorably impressed with the island," Mr. Warren said.

Gallup PollCommunism Real Threat To Canada's Government

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

Canadian Communist organizers will be making a very grave mistake if they assume that the Canadian public has its head in the sand.

Today, one-third of the voters of Canada go so far as to say that Communism represents a "very serious" threat to our democratic form of government in Canada. Another one-third feel that Communism is a fairly serious threat.

Only 19 in every 100 Canadians feel that Communism is "no threat at all."

Because some have charged that the Canadian people were asleep to the dangers of Communism here, in this country, the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll of Canada) asked a very carefully selected sample of the voters, designed so as to represent the views of the whole voting population, this question:

"As things stand right now, how serious a threat do you think Communism is to our form of government here in Canada—a very serious threat, a fairly serious threat, or no threat at all."

Here is the way Canadians size up the situation: Very serious threat, 34 per cent; fairly serious threat, 33 per cent; no threat at all, 19 per cent; no opinion, 14 per cent.

QUEBEC DISTURBED

Of all the provinces, Quebec takes Communism most seriously. Forty-three per cent in that province feel it is a "very serious threat."

These Canadians who see no threat at all in Communism are apt to dismiss the subject as "just talk."

PRISCILLA'S POPHamburg Alternative For Jewish Refugees

LONDON (AP)—Britain will send Jews aboard three British vessels off Port de Bouc, France, to Hamburg if they refuse a final request to land in France, authoritative sources said today.

Nearly 4,400 Jews are involved. Hamburg is in the British zone of Germany.

The Jews, who have been living aboard the British ships off the French port since July 29, are to be given "one last chance to make up their minds to take advantage of France's offer of sanctuary," said one of the informants, who refused to be identified by name. He said this decision probably would be conveyed to them this week.

Formerly displaced persons quartered in various parts of Europe, the Jews sailed from France for Palestine in July aboard the Exodus 1947, a former Chesapeake Bay steamer.

Their vessel was intercepted by British warships and the would-be immigrants were transhipped to Port de Bouc, off Marseille.

B.C. Man To Make Movie In Britain

LONDON (CP)—Carroll Lewis, famous on the British stage and radio since he came here from Vancouver, B.C., in 1936, has been signed to make a British movie entitled "The Brass Monkey," to be produced by Alliance Studios for United Artists.

Co-starring with Lewis, who claims a radio audience of 10,000,000, will be Carole Landis, now en route to Britain from the United States.

"I've always wanted to make a really good British movie," said Lewis, "and this is going to be it."
